

Recount To Restore Faith In Michigan Elections Demanded

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING — (AP) — Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, jr., chairman of the state board of canvassers, said today he was determined the recount of Michigan's governorship election shall be conducted so as to restore public confidence in the state's elective system.

Public officials reported a state-wide storm of queries, suspicions and criticisms from voters over the Nov. 7 election "mess" which saw Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the Democrat, win by 1,152 votes over Republican Harry F. Kelly after a seven-day series of election errors.

All Precincts Included

Kelly, heading back home from a Florida vacation, and the G.O.P. high command have announced they will ask a recount of the state's entire 4,361 precincts' votes for governor—first in state history.

Alger, a Republican who was defeated in the primary by Kelly, said "the thing now is to restore public confidence that this will not be a partisan recount."

"As far as I am concerned," Alger said, "there will be no jockeying for votes but a straight recount no matter who wins."

"If I find," Alger said, "there has been any manipulation of the recount machinery I will do all in my power to see that the people responsible are prosecuted and punished, whether they be Republicans or Democrats."

Supervisors Selected

Alger said that the Republican state central committee had asked him for 1,000 copies of the state election manual and that he promptly notified Williams' office the Democrat party could have equal treatment "because I feel that both sides ought to know what they're doing."

Alger said he had conferred with Attorney General Stephen J. Roth, a Democrat, and reached an understanding that "the entire recount procedure shall be subject to agreement and approval of Governor Williams, Mr. Kelly, Neil Staebler, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, Owen J. Cleary, chairman of the Republican state central committee, Mr. Roth, the state board of canvassers and myself."

The state board is composed of Alger, State Treasurer D. Hale Burke and Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction.

Alger said he was making a list of "responsible and ethical" state employees who will be appointed as state supervisors in each of the 83 counties to conduct the recount. The list will be submitted to each major party for approval, he said.

Rules for recounts, drafted in 1919 and approved by the then attorney general, Alger said, have been resubmitted to Roth for approval, extension or disapproval.

No Local Residents

Under state law the state board of canvassers names a supervisor for each county recount. Alger said there would be no local residents named to such a position.

"I want to get state employees," he said, "who have the best knowledge of election laws and machinery. Some of my department of state investigators will qualify. Some of the auditors of my department, the state revenue department and the auditor general's department are men who have the intelligence and exacting

Excess Profits Measure To Be Ready By Dec. 1

Speedup Brings GOP Charges Of Gag

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House tax framers, working under forced draft, pointed today toward a target of Dec. 1 as the date by which they expect to have an excess profits levy ready for house action.

After hearing Secretary of the Treasury Snyder outline administration suggestions for skimming $4,000,000,000 from corporation earnings, the House Ways and Means committee voted on party lines yesterday to conclude hearings no later than next Wednesday.

Republicans Cool

With more than 200 individuals wanting to testify, this means many will get no chance to present their views orally, although they may present written statements for the record. The hearings continue today.

The hearing speed-up brought immediate charges of "gag" and "steamroller" from Republican committee members, who showed themselves cool to Snyder's proposal for a 75 per cent levy on excess corporation profits.

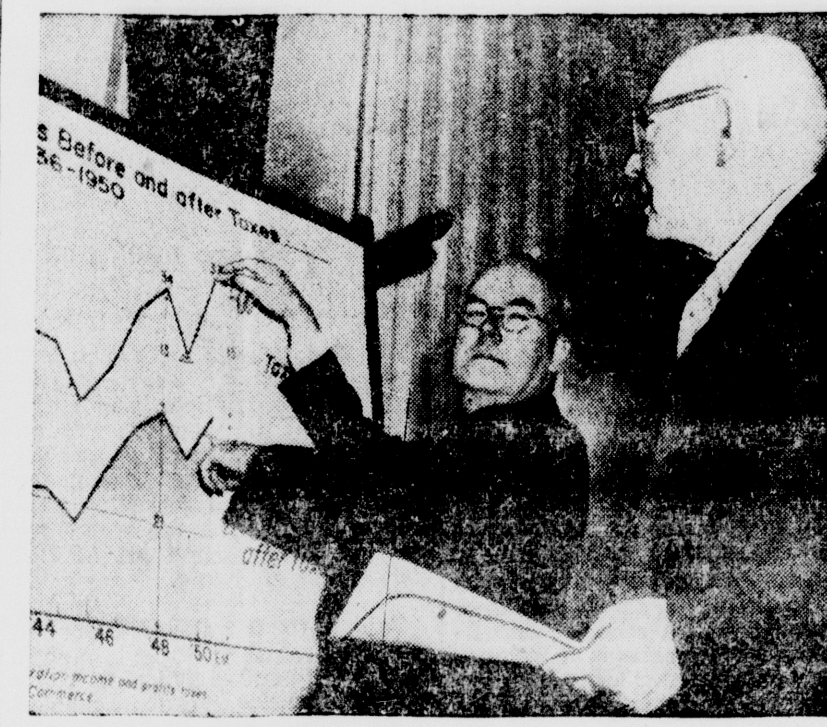

Rep. Reed (R-N.Y.), senior GOP member, accused the Democratic committee majority of being "not even interested in trying to write sound tax legislation."

Hearings Limited

By a straight party vote, the committee limited the hearings to one week and put a 15-minute time limit on the appearance of individual witnesses. It also decreed that "where possible" no more than one witness should appear for a single industry although more than one could split the 15-minute maximum among them.

It added a further limitation by ruling out testimony on any alternative tax proposal. Some business groups have proposed alternatives to the excess profits tax.

Western Powers Arm Policemen In Berlin

BERLIN — (AP) — The western powers brought British and American troop reinforcements to Berlin today and announced they will arm German police here with submachine guns and automatic rifles.

As German school children waved welcome, eight 33-ton Comet tanks rolled from a freight train to the British armored force depot. Shortly afterward 200 American soldiers also arrived by rail.

The soldiers were members of the headquarters company of the Sixth Infantry regiment, which by January will reinforce the American troops here to the level of a powerful armed regimental combat team.

The Allied Kommandatura (The three western commandants) announced it would equip and train the 138,000 man police force in west Berlin with submachine guns, automatic rifles and rifles.

"This is 'in the interests of Berlin security,'" the Kommandatura asserted. It described the weapons as "types normal to a modern police force."

"Most of them will be retained in allied hands and issued to the police only in case of emergency," the Kommandatura added. "It is felt that this re-equipping of the

Europe Defense Plans Revised

Nations Deadlocked On Arming Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Another effort to break the German rearmament deadlock and get on with organization of a combined defense force for Western Europe is scheduled in London next month.

The North Atlantic military committee expects to get together about Dec. 4 with the North Atlantic council of foreign ministers' deputies, now in session there.

Meanwhile, efforts are continuing here and in London on a way to break the German rearmament deadlock. French proposals indicate favor for a proposed compromise limiting German units to regimental combat teams, with between 4,000 and 5,000 men each. Such a strength compares with 18,000 to 20,000 men in a division.

It is generally expected here that an acceptable compromise on the French demand for European assembly control of the projected army will be more difficult.

One proposal being discussed is that the North Atlantic nations agree to place defense forces under a European defense minister, responsible to a European assembly, when in their opinion a European organization appears capable of assuming the responsibility.

Two Hunters Killed, Nine Wounded; Toll Of 1950 Deer Season

(By The Associated Press)

Two deer hunters were dead and nine had been wounded by gunfire as Michigan's deer season today entered its second day.

The first day's deer kill and the weather had been disappointing, but forecasts of colder and snow in the north country improved the hunting prospects.

Slain By Fathers

Two youths were killed accidentally by their fathers in opening day mishaps.

James Edward Strasler, 14, of Cooks was the first fatality. His father, William, mistook him for a deer. They were hunting in Schoecraft county.

Robert Nelson, 17, of Bessemer was killed later in the day when he got in the line of fire of his father who was trying a long shot at a deer 170 yards away.

The father and son were participating in a deer drive through a swamp near Bessemer.

State officials renewed pleas for extreme care in handling guns.

"If everyone were observing the rules of safety," said Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster, "we would not have to worry about how many more were going to be killed this year."

Woman Shot In Foot

Hunting fatalities have ranged between 20 and 30 in recent years. Lloyd Johnson, 35, of Manistee, hunting in Manistee county, was wounded by a stray bullet.

Valentine Paul Lasky, 44, of (112 Price) Jackson, was struck by a stray bullet while hunting in Montmorency county.

Audrey Revus, 36, of Rapid River, hunting in Alger county, was wounded in the foot when her gun discharged as she clambered over a log.

David Ropelle, 27, of Norway, was wounded when a bullet fired by his uncle, Sam Ropelle, ricocheted off a tree.

Orson Smith of Dowling brought the first deer across the Straits of Mackinac at 12:30 p. m. yesterday. It was a small buck which he bagged near Manistee.

Straits ferries through Tuesday had carried 16,332 vehicles northward in six days, compared with 16,939 last year for the same period.

Troops Of UN Move Without Firing A Shot

Americans 20 Miles From Manchuria

(By The Associated Press)

SEOUL — (AP) — United Nations forces drove forward all along the cold North Korean war front today.

Smashing advances of as much as five miles in the northeast carried Americans to within 20 air miles of the Manchurian border.

On the northwest front, troops of three nations comprising the entire U. S. First Corps moved through a sleet storm. They advanced as much as four miles without firing a shot.

In Thursday's biggest push the U. S. Seventh Division fought five miles forward in the frozen Pung-sun hills in the northeast against Red artillery, tanks and infantry.

Marines Have Clash

The drive placed the 17th Infantry Regiment in force along the 41st Parallel. The doughboys were only 20 air miles south of the Manchurian border.

In the extreme northeast, the Republic of Korea (ROK) capital division broke up a North Korean counterattack at noon. The ROKs then drove two miles ahead on the left flank.

Park-clad U. S. Marines clashed with a sizable Communist force as they moved two and a half to three miles up the icy west

Airmen Lost Three Days On Hunt With One Squirrel To Eat

GREAT FALLS, Mont. — (AP) —

Two air force men lost in deep canyons for three days with only one squirrel to eat, made their way back to the Great Falls base last night.

Sgt. Thomas Hart of Fort Pierre, S. D., and Cpl. Calvin Beebe of Clayton, Wis., both were in good condition. They said they'd had no doubts they would reach safety by following a stream.

Hunting with Sgt. Julian Weekes of Randolph, N. Y., Sunday, they turned into the wrong canyon trying to return to their car. When they failed to meet him, Weekes alerted police and authorities at the Great Falls Air Base where the three are stationed.

Hart and Beebe saw military and private planes winging back and forth overhead in the intensive search for them each day but they couldn't attract attention.

"We ate a squirrel which we killed Monday," Hart reported. "We stuck it on a green stick and held it over the fire like a marshmallow."

Undaunted, the trio plans to go hunting again next weekend.

Everybody Hunting; No Crime At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE — (AP) — Crime in the Sault has apparently taken to the woods.

The Sault police station's blotter today was clear for the first time in years. There's no explanation other than the opening of deer season.

The Sault Ste. Marie police department is just as happy about it. Half the force is out at the department's hunting cabin, "Flatfoot Lodge." The remainder of the force is working a 12 hour shift until the midmark of the season. Then the cops switch places.

Shotgun Ends Illicit Romance

Wife And Lover Slain By Florida Trucker

PALATKA, Fla. — (AP) — Two shotgun blasts ended the clandestine romance of Jacksonville's safety commissioner R. D. Sutton and the wife of a prominent trucking firm here.

The husband, J. P. McRae, 34, had learned of the tryst and was waiting near Sutton's well-furnished but lonely lakeside cabin 25 miles from here.

He caught the two in bed in a nude embrace yesterday morning, fired twice at close range, staggered from the cabin and collapsed of a heart attack.

Mrs. McRae's head was blown off, Sutton's was almost so. She was 33; Sutton 39.

Details were told to a coroner's jury by a brother—A. G. McRae—and two friends whom the husband telephoned this morning to ask if they would meet him there to take photographs of the lovers so he could use them as evidence.

But the photographs were not taken. The shooting came first.

McRae was jailed, then taken to Glendale hospital here under guard. His condition was reported as fair. No charge was placed against him.

Sutton was married and had a son, Charles. Mrs. Sutton was reported visiting somewhere in the West.

Mrs. McRae left her Jacksonville home early yesterday, telling friends she was going to a meeting of the PTA in which she had taken an active part. Because of her son, Joel, 16, she also had been active in the Patrol Boys Mothers' association.

Koreans To Tell UN Of Aggression By Chinese Reds

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Korean spokesman is expected to back up Gen. MacArthur's charges of Chinese Communist intervention when the United Nations security council meets this afternoon. (3 p. m. EST).

John M. Chang, permanent Korean representative here, is scheduled to speak in a council debate on an American-backed resolution ordering Chinese Communist withdrawal and assuring the Peiping government that U. N. troops will respect the Korean frontier. Other sponsors are Britain, France, Norway, Ecuador and Cuba.

Blame On Americans

On the eve of the council's meeting, Russia's Jacob A. Malik circulated a letter from the Chinese Reds charging that American aggression is responsible for the war and defending the right of Chinese "Volunteers" to go to the aid of the North Koreans.

It is expected that Malik will read the letter into the council records and then demand that proceedings halt until a delegation from Peiping is present.

Word was received from Prague yesterday that a nine-man Chinese Red group has booked air passage for Nov. 23 and will arrive in New York the next morning.

Since this is a Friday it is doubtful if they can take part in council deliberations until the following Monday—the 27th. This is two months since the original invitation was extended for them to come here to take part in discussions of the Formosa problem and 19 days from the time they were asked to come to explain their actions in Korea.

Peiping Kills Time

The U. S. has insisted that the council proceed without waiting for the Chinese who, in any case, have served notice that they will discuss only their own charges of American aggression — not MacArthur's report that they themselves are fighting in Korea.

Since it is now apparent that the Peiping delegation is taking its own sweet time about arriving here, the U. S. is expected to press this view even more strongly.

Court Blocks CBS Colored Telecasts

CHICAGO — (AP) — Columbia Broadcasting System has lost the first round in a court fight to go ahead with its commercial color television programs.

CBS, given the green light by the Federal Communications commission, was blocked yesterday from starting the color telecasts by a three judge panel in federal court.

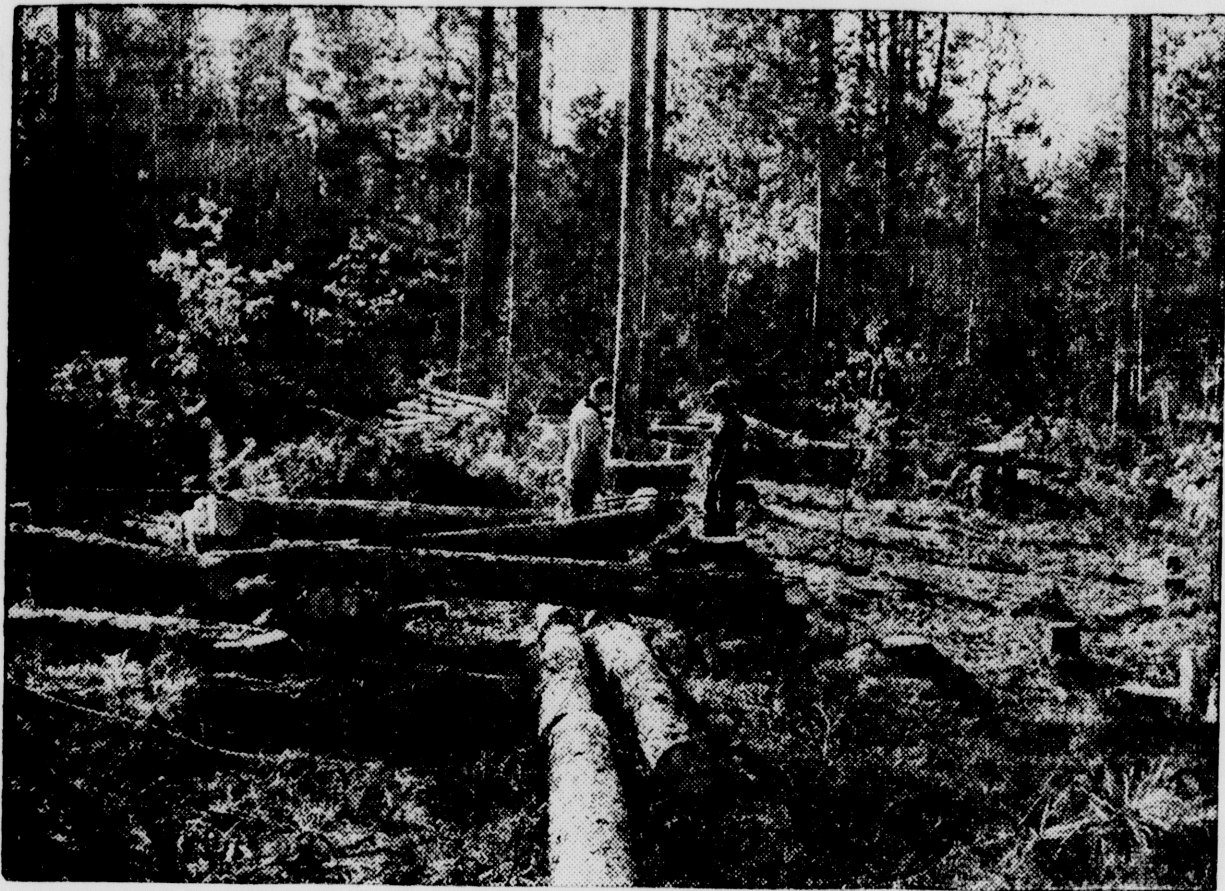

The judges issued an oral temporary restraining order delaying CBS from putting on its color telecasts, scheduled to start Monday, for an indefinite period of time.

Selective Logging Project Under Way Near City Limits

LOGGING NEAR PAPER MILL—The Escanaba Paper company has awarded a contract to Walter Lisle, Groos sawmill operator, to cut about 100,000 feet of Norway, white and jack pine on the east bank of the river, in the rear of the Groos mill. Only the over-matured and fire-scarred trees are being taken under a selective cutting program. The trees, ranging from 150 to 175 years old and averaging 18 inches in diameter at breast-height, were scaled and marked by Lee Stratton and Joseph Groos of the woodlands department. Above are some of the logs. Most trees cut into three 16-foot logs. (Juetten Photos)

LOADING LOGS WITH JAMMER—Walter Lisle and his employee, Henry Van Mill, are using a power-saw to cut the logs, a tractor for skidding and a truck for hauling the logs to the Lisle mill. The lumber will be used for maintenance work at the paper mill. Pulpwood is produced from the treetops. Logging operations began on Oct. 10 and will be completed by Feb. 1. Only 50 per cent of the volume of timber in the stand will be cut. In the above picture, Lee Stratton and Henry Van Mill are shown holding the jammer loading chains while Walter Lisle is standing on the truckload.

Hunters Advised On Getting Lost

Conservation Dept. Gives Useful Tips

With the general deer season luring thousands into the woods, the conservation department offers some suggestions to keep hunters from getting lost.

Once camp has been set up, locate and mark its location on your map.

Learn to read your map and acquaint yourself with its base features.

Know how to use and read your compass.

When you leave camp, orient yourself with your compass and map.

Know the direction in which you are going.

When you cross a stream or road, check your map and orient yourself.

Familiarize yourself with boot prints of other party members.

Notice local names of landings, bridges and locations.

If camped with a party and you decide to hunt by yourself, inform the others of where you intend to hunt.

Always start your return trip so as to be back to camp before dark.

Should you get lost the department makes some other suggestions.

Consult your compass for direction.

Never argue with your compass.

Try to avoid getting panicky.

Sit down, smoke a cigarette if necessary, and listen for sound of cars or trains.

If it appears you will not find your way out of the woods before darkness, pick out a sheltered spot and gather wood to last through the night.

Build a fire.

Do not waste ammunition, conserve your strength, food and water.

If you have not been found the first night and if snow has covered your tracks, take your compass and walk in a due east, south, west or north direction for about one-half mile, then backtrack to your fire and build it up. Proceed in same manner in each of the other three directions, each time returning to your fire. Searchers will find your tracks and come to your fire.

REMEMBER, THE SEARCHING PARTY WILL NOT BE ORGANIZED UNTIL IT IS KNOWN YOU ARE LOST. Never leave your fire to find the searching party, let the searching party find you.

New Assistant Hired By City

MSC Graduate To Succeed Lukens

Olaf R. Pearson, 26, of East Lansing, public administration graduate of Michigan State college, has accepted a position as assistant to the city manager here.

Pearson, a veteran of army service during World War II, will succeed C. R. Lukens, who has accepted a position as city manager in Fairborn, Ohio. Lukens came to Escanaba Dec. 1, 1948 from Albany, N. Y., and has worked here two years under a city manager training program.

The new administrative assistant will arrive next Tuesday. He is married and has two children. At present Pearson is working for the city of Berkley, Mich.

Pearson, who also took post-graduate work at Michigan State college, was one of four applicants recently interviewed in Lansing by A. V. Aronson, city manager.

Republicans To Get Early Start On 1952 Senatorial Campaign

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) was reported in line to head a new Republican committee to begin work on the 1952 senatorial campaign as soon as the 82nd Congress meets.

Despite a net gain of five seats in last week's election, Republican leaders are said to have agreed informally they had better get an early start on what looks like an uphill battle to win control of the Senate two years from now.

Two Seats Needed
Unless deaths or resignations change the party standings before then, the Republicans will need to gain only two seats to take over the Senate—or gain one and elect a vice president who could break a tie vote in their favor. The new senate, meeting in January, will have 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

Against the small net gain they need, however, the Republicans will be risking in the 1952 vote 20 seats they now hold, while the Democrats will have only 12 at stake.

Of the Democratic seats, five are in the solid south. And only four Republicans can be counted as safely within GOP territory.

Vandenberg Retires
If Bridges is chosen to head the campaign group, he will succeed Senator Brewster (R-Me). Brewster will be up for reelection in 1952 and party rules limit membership on the campaign group to Republicans from states where no Senate races are involved.

By 1952, Republicans have to find a replacement for Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who has said that he won't run again. Several other widely-known Republicans, including Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Knowland of California, Smith of New Jersey and McCarthy of Wisconsin face reelection battles.

Henry Wallace's "Conversion" Is Complete, His Speeches Reveal

HENRY WALLACE said in New York this week that he believes the United States must arm "as fast as possible" until Russia and Communist China prove they really want peace.

This is the same Henry Wallace who, as the candidate for president on the Progressive ticket in the 1948 campaign and for weeks and months before then preached the gospel of "Russian friendship." Wallace was the No. 1 apologist for Russia in the United States until the Korean war broke out. Then Wallace renounced the Progressive party which was Communist-controlled and which Wallace must certainly have known was dominated by Communists.

When the Progressive party refused to condemn the Communist invasion of South Korea, Wallace resigned as its head. Apparently it required this overt act of aggression to convince Wallace that Russia never really meant to build for world peace. Virtually every other American knew this for years, but Wallace didn't wake up to the implications of the Russian program until the Korean war.

As further evidence of Wallace's "about face", he said in New York that he no longer advocates the admission of the "new China," which is Communist China, to the United Nations. And he also said that Premier Mao Tze-tung, leader of Communist China, probably never will declare independence of Moscow in the same way as Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

"The Communist invasions of South Korea and Tibet made it clear to me that Russia is eager to use other people to heat up the cold war," Wallace said.

The conversion of Henry Wallace was a long time in coming, but we're happy that it has finally arrived. It was extremely disconcerting, to say the least, to have a former vice president of the United States tramping around the world, as Wallace did, mouthing the Communist propaganda.

Townships, City Reach Fire Agreement

THE townships of Ford River, Wells and Escanaba have entered into an agreement with the City of Escanaba for fire protection in conformity with the policy established recently by the city council.

The arrangement is one that is much more satisfactory to the city than the plan, or lack of one, formerly in effect and in the long run, it should be more satisfactory, too, to the property owners in the affected townships.

Under the terms of the contract, the city will provide fire protection to property in those townships and the townships will pay for fire calls on the basis of $70 for the first hour and $50 per hour or fraction thereafter. The old rate was a paltry $15 per hour which was not even close to paying actual cost. Moreover the city frequently was expected to collect from the property owner rather than the township.

The new arrangement places payment responsibility upon the township which, in turn, can collect from the property owner if the township desires to do so.

The new system is better for everyone concerned because it guarantees payment to the city of a reasonable fee for the service provided and it also guarantees to property owners in the affected townships that fire fighting equipment will be available when needed, except on rare occasions when all local equipment is busily engaged in local calls.

CURB ON BUILDING (Christian Science Monitor)

There can be little objections to the purpose of the decision made by the National Production Authority to ban new construction for "amusement, recreational and entertainment purposes." There is a continuing need for wholesome amusement. But few persons would argue that the building of additional race tracks and night clubs should be allowed to hamper the national preparedness program.

The wording of the order of the NPA is open to serious question. We doubt if it will be so interpreted as to bar the construction of homes and apartment houses, as some contractors assert. But the statement that the policy is to "further limit or prohibit additional types of projects which do not further the defense effort or increase the nation's productivity" when "deemed necessary to minimize shortages" creates unnecessary uncertainty. The possibility of retroactive bans is particularly damaging and should be removed.

Questions and Answers

Q—What birds build the most beautiful nests?

A—The hummingbird, whose nest is an exquisite cup less than two inches across, of felt, plant, fern, or dandelion - seed down. It is covered so perfectly with moss and lichens and fastened with spider webs so as to appear a mere protuberance on the limb.

Q—Is an alien considered an American on taking out his first American citizenship papers?

A—No. First papers are considered merely a declaration of intention. He is not considered an American citizen until he has received his final naturalization papers.

Q—How large are the lifeboats of the new American liner Independence?

A—They are the largest ever made. Each lifeboat can carry 150, nearly three times as many persons as Columbus' flagship, the Santa Maria, whose complement was 52 men.

Way Found To Boost Rubber Production

THE natural rubber industry, controlled by British and Dutch companies, is commanding a price of 70 cents a pound for crude rubber with prospects of further increases.

Since the United States is the largest consumer of raw rubber, the high price of crude is of great concern to the American people. To make secure adequate supply of rubber to meet the nation's needs, particularly in wartime, the government has built plants for the production of synthetic rubber.

This week the General Tire and Rubber company, of Akron, informed the government that the company has developed a method of increasing production of synthetic rubber by 22 per cent with existing facilities. Adoption of the process at government plants would eliminate part of the need for increasing the size of synthetic and butadiene plants as well as deflating the price of natural rubber, according to William O'Neil, president of General Tire.

Uncle Sam has been in the peculiar position of trying to hold raw rubber prices on a firm level to protect Britain's dollar market and at the same time to increase production of synthetic rubber in American plants as a safeguard against a dangerous rubber shortage in the event of war.

The increased world demand for raw rubber, however, has had an inflationary effect on the price of crude. If domestic synthetic rubber production can be increased 22 per cent without any increase in cost, as the General Tire company reports, the government should grab the offer for general use in government plants. That is one sure way of forcing down the excessively high cost of raw rubber and of saving the American taxpayers huge sums of money in defense expenditures.

Lukens, Accepts Position In Ohio

THE appointment of Randy Lukens as city manager of the consolidated community of Fairborn, Ohio, a city of 8,000 population, is a deserving boost for the young man who has been assistant to City Manager A. V. Aronson here for the past two years.

When Lukens came to Escanaba from Albany, New York two years ago, it was understood that he would be with us for only a comparatively short period of time. He was seeking a career in the city manager field and in a sense, his work here was a part of the preparation for that career.

Lukens has done a good job in Escanaba. He is a conscientious public official who believes that good public service requires something more than merely putting in 40 hours a week and drawing a paycheck every two weeks.

He possesses the attributes that are essential for success in an extremely difficult field of public service. His many local friends wish him well in his new position. It is a job opportunity in the city manager field that is challenging, but one in which Lukens is ably qualified to succeed.

Dream House

By Gordon Martin

It was after World War Number Two you planned to build a house, to provide the very special things demanded by your spouse. Then you checked the cost of building and you found it mighty high so you thought you'd play it smart and build your dream house by-and-by. And you waited and you waited for the price of stuff to drop but instead it looked as if the upward trend would never stop.

You decided, then, to go ahead and be a builder bold, and enjoy a brand new residence before you grew too old. And as workmen raised a structure built of stone and wood and brick, your expenses mounted every time their hammers hit a lick. Into all your cherished savings you were forced to dip and dip, and you often thought, with what it cost, that house should be a pip.

Came at last the finished product and 'twas time for you to move, and you hoped the little woman would her dream house then approve. She was pleased with all the wonders of her shining domicile, and at once she planned a shopping trip to furnish it in style. So you knew that in the future, while you'd always be in hock, you could boast a house that had the biggest mortgage in the block.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Politics runs in cycles. And the political cycle a quarter of a century ago has some interesting comparisons with that today. In fact, it's almost similar.

A quarter of a century ago, in the election of 1926, Calvin Coolidge, supposedly supreme in the White House, almost lost control of Congress. He retained the senate by exactly the same majority as Harry Truman today—one vote. The house he kept by a margin of 42. Today Truman's margin there is 34.

Some interesting figures popped up in that surprise election of 1926. A young man from Maryland named Millard Tydings, son of a Susquehanna river boatman and hitherto unknown, was elected to the senate. A quarter of a century later, Tydings, in another surprise election bowed out. The man who defeated him, John Marshall Butler, was equally unknown.

Another interesting figure swept into the senate in that 1926 surprise election was a relative newcomer from Kentucky named Alben Barkley. He defeated Republican Senator Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the privileges and elections committee and considered a sure bet to win.

Another upstart Democrat who surprised the senate in 1926 was Robert Wagner of New York, a German-born boy who rose to sponsor our most important social legislation. Wagner defeated a powerful Republican leader, Sen. James Wadsworth, chairman of the military affairs committee, who had the courage to come back to Congress in a reduced rank, as a member of the house, and this year retires from politics. This year also, Sen. Herbert Lehman was elected to fill the full term of the man he succeeded, Bob Wagner.

Also swept into office in that surprise election of 1926 was a young Democrat from Oklahoma, Elmer Thomas. This year Senator Thomas bowed out.

—COOLIDGE DID NOT "CHOOSE"—

Another young Democrat who surprised and perturbed President Coolidge was Carl Hayden of Arizona who defeated Ralph Cameron, a high-ranking Republican on the appropriations committee.

Even the chairman of the Republican National committee, Sen. William H. Butler of Massachusetts, the personal friend of Coolidge, was defeated that year by a young Democrat named David I. Walsh. Butler had been appointed to the Senate, following the death of Henry Cabot Lodge. And 20 years later—1946—another Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of the old senator, defeated Walsh, the man who defeated Butler. So goes the cycle of politics.

Coolidge, who like Truman, a former vice president, had entered the White House in 1923 through death, and—again like Truman—was easily re-elected in 1924.

But the 1926 off-year election put a coalition of Democrats and progressive Republicans in control of the senate, just as a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats will now control under Truman. And in 1928 Coolidge decided that he did not "choose to run."

Wonder if President Truman, whose career has been strangely similar to Coolidge's, will choose likewise? Mrs. Truman very much wants him to.

NOTE—After Coolidge bowed out, the Republicans, under Herbert Hoover, were overwhelmingly elected in 1928 in the Al Smith campaign, only to lose office in 1932 and for 20 long years thereafter.

—MERRY-GO-ROUND—

Though the secret service has increased the president's bodyguard since the assassination attempt, Mr. Truman is as carefree as ever. "When the good Lord wants me, he'll take me," he tells his guards. A boom is already developing for Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico for vice president in 1952. Senator Taft's campaign was so well financed that he had $15,000 to spare for the senate race of Lieut. Gov. Joe Hanley in New York.

The man who is charged with keeping the Democrats in control of the senate for the next two years is really Dr. George Calver, the Capitol physician. If one Democrat senator dies in a GOP state it would tie the senate; if two die the Republicans would control. Dr. Calver's chief health advice to aged Democrat senators is: "Keep out of filibusters. It's too hard on the heart." After elections, GOP Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio congratulated GOP national chairman Guy Gabrielson on the telephone for "getting that close, without an actual majority in Congress." We're a lot better off not to be in charge," said Congressman Brown. "In fact, we're perfect."

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

Q. What is the origin of the phrase "dramatis personae," meaning, "the cast of characters in a play"?

A. Dramatis personae (pronounced: DRAM-uh-tiss per-SOE-nee) is a Latin phrase which means literally, "the masks of the drama."

The theaters of ancient Greece and Rome were hardly anything more than dancing circles, usually located at the foot of a small hill on which the spectators sat and looked down upon the play. So great was the distance between audience and players that the actors had to wear large and exaggerated masks to identify the characters which they portrayed. The masks also served as megaphones in magnifying the voices of the players.

The Latin word for mask is persona, and its literal meaning is "the mask worn by the actors in the Greek and Roman drama." By extension, persona came to mean "the character represented by the actor; the part which anyone plays; the character which one sustains in the world." Hence, "a person in the abstract."

Cattlemen Expect Rise In Beef Prices Next Year; More Demand

By JOHN A. MCWETHY

Staff Correspondent of THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

CHICAGO—Cattle raisers are betting on more costly beef steak and beef stew for next year's dinner tables.

That's the word here in the heart of the big Midwest meat factory, where farmers turn lean and tough steers from the West's range lands into succulent beefes by stuffing the animals with corn in their barn-lots.

The farmers are paying record high prices for cattle suitable for fattening. Last week they brought 29½ cents a pound at the big Kansas City market. That's 8½ more than at the 1948 peak, and 40% more than a year ago.

Optimism Plus Optimism These high prices are partly the result of big demand from optimistic farmers. But they also reflect a supply that's been lessened by optimistic cattle men.

Out at the stockyards on Chicago's Southside, you can even find cattle buyers who look for firm or higher prices. "In my job, I

Government spending, they're impregnated with rosy ideas."

Feed Is Plentiful Plentiful supplies of feed are also an important factor in causing cattle men to raise their production sights. P. O. Wilson, secretary-manager of the National Livestock Producers Association, cooperative livestock marketing agency for some 350,000 farmers, says, "Everybody has feed and they're all trying to find something to feed it to."

Out at the stockyards on Chicago's Southside, you can even find cattle buyers who look for firm or higher prices. "In my job, I

When parents die, people are filled with sympathy for little children, yet, to a child, it makes little difference where the parents are gone, or why. Most little children display their feeling of anxiety and insecurity by peeping through the window and by whimpering. Even the so-called easy ones to keep demonstrate some real jealousy when parents are gone.

It is seldom that baby sitters complain to parents about having had trouble with a child. Baby sitters like to protect their reputations and their jobs. The child is the one that suffers.

Psychologists agree that infants can learn to worry at a very early age and that childhood obsessions are formed which cause victims to feel uneasy and worried for no reason later in life.

The best baby sitter in the world is still just a baby sitter. No baby sitter has the soothing influence which is possessed by the mother.

Pearl Harbor and South Korea prove how wrong an isolationist with a big voice can be.—Rep. Stephen M. Young (D., Ohio).

I firmly believe the thing the Communists fear more than our military potential or our atomic bomb is America's industrial power, fully mobilized.—Leon Keyserling, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

Beef supplies in 1951 will total 64 pounds per capita, one pound more than in 1950, the American Meat Institute estimates. Pork supplies will rise three pounds per capita to 73 pounds. Veal, lamb and mutton output will be about the same as in 1950, raising total meat supplies by four pounds to 149 pounds per capita for 1951. Total meat supplies, the Institute figures, will rise 1,000 million pounds, or 5 percent, to 23,500 million pounds.

BUILDING A SCHOOL—It takes more than a gift to build a school, as the folks at Garden are learning in connection with the project to construct a grade school there in 1951.

The gift was $150,000 bequeathed the community for a grade school in the will of Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, widow of William Bonifas, who amassed a fortune in the lumber business. Bonifas began his career on the Garden Peninsula, and Mrs. Bonifas always had a soft spot in her heart for the village where she spent her young womanhood.

Gratefully the people of Garden will receive the gift of a new grade school. And because of their interest in the project it will become a school designed to fit the educational needs of the community—a gift they will augment with $10,000 in local financing and by study and thought help form into a building for the benefit of the children.

DISCUSSION—Meeting recently in the community hall at Garden with Albert A. Hoover of the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, Chicago, the Garden board of education and an advisory committee of teachers and PTA members, the school project was thoroughly discussed.

The discussion continued for several hours, relieved now and again by a bit of humor. Hoover, explaining how the present old building on the north side of the village could be utilized as part of the new structure, said that for the hot lunch program, "we can provide tables that one man can fold right down out of the wall."

Walter Stellwagon, board of education secretary, gave a couple pulls at his pipe and asked: "How about one woman?"

FOR THE CHILDREN—Also attending the meeting were Hagle Quarnstrom, Delta county school superintendent, and John A. Lemmer, superintendent of Escanaba schools.

At another point in the discussion Hoover was describing how the proposed new school would be designed and built to make the children feel more at home. The building would be for the youngsters—not an impressive-looking monument.

"Even the knobs on the doors will be lower for the children," said Hoover. "And for short teachers," added Supt. Lemmer.

ONE EXCEPTION—At another point in the discussion a question was asked concerning cost, and Hoover said that costs are rising and some building materials are already difficult to obtain.

"But trends will be determined within a month—now the election is over," he said.

There was an immediate chorus in reply.

"Over—except in Michigan!"

WOMAN'S VIEWPOINT—So you will not receive the impression that the session was devoid of seriousness, we should report that the asides and jokes indicated only the informality of the meeting.

Many searching questions were asked by the board members and the advisory committee, the tentative plans were studied and changes suggested and adopted. A. J. "Buck" LaVallee, president of the board, invited questions from the advisory committee and the citizens who attended the meeting.

The woman's viewpoint was well represented by the advisory committee composed of three PTA members, Mrs. Alfred Tebo, Mrs. Jack LaCrosse and Mrs. Virgil Winters, and two teachers, Mrs. Lenore Tatrow and Mrs. Roland Boudreau.

They wanted to know about heating plant, school furniture, lighting, decorative colors, fire-resistant materials, storage cupboards, and suggested locating the kindergarten room on the south end—which Hoover agreed was desirable. The plans will be changed in that respect.

"We want to think of all these things now," one of the women summed up the discussion. "It will be too late when the school is built."

Eisenhower Is Top Man In War Or Peace In U. S.

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—From both the military and the political perspective a great deal may depend in the next year and a half on one man's future. That man is General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

CHILDS

Representative of the 12 North Atlantic pact nations meeting in London now will have something to say about the future. The 12 deputies have as their No. 1 problem the effort to reconcile the position of France on German military units in a North Atlantic defense force with the position of the United States and the other powers.

The French have shown no intention of yielding and the effort at reconciliation may fail. Failure would mean that no supreme commander could be appointed for a unified force. Instead the Atlantic powers would accept an alternative already worked out.

A chief of staff would be appointed whose powers would be considerably less than those of supreme commander. Obviously, Eisenhower would not be asked to take the lesser position.

The final result is not likely to be known before Dec. 10. Around Dec. 1 the chairman of America's joint chiefs of staff, General Omar N. Bradley, is going to London for a top-level North Atlantic conference. That conference will be charged with coordinating military and diplomatic decisions and coming up with a specific program.

Likely Be American

The Western European chief of staff would probably also—on the urging of the other North Atlantic nations—be an American. Most frequently mentioned is Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, deputy chief of staff of the U. S. Army.

But if it becomes possible to name a supreme commander for a western force including German units the assignment will go to Eisenhower. He has told his former associates in the Pentagon that he will accept the post if and when he is asked to. As he has several times said publicly, he will respond to any call of duty in a time of national emergency whether it means serving in uniform or not.

There has already been discussion as to whether assignment in Europe as supreme commander would altogether remove Eisenhower from the political picture at home. Governor Thomas E. Dewey has designated Eisenhower as his candidate for the Republican nomination for 1952.

The question of General Ike's potential future in politics has not been overlooked by the Pentagon planners. It is a reality that cannot be ignored.

Most military men are decidedly doubtful about a general—any general—in the White House. Their feeling is that this might make the task of re-armament and defense more difficult. It would be necessary for the general, as president, to lean over backward in order to convince Congress and the public that he was not unduly favoring the military.

There would always be the suspicion that a general in the White House would be inclined to militarize civilian functions of government. In a minor and comparatively unimportant way it has been possible to see this reaction in the civilian office of secretary of defense which is now occupied by General George C. Marshall.

Ike Has Prestige

But their own feelings to one side, top military men recognize the position Eisenhower occupies in the country. It is conceivable that in 1952 millions of his fellow citizens would regard him as the only American who could unify the country and get essential action to maintain America's role of responsibility in the world. Eisenhower would stand above the political battle that seems certain to be waged between Senator Robert A. Taft on the one hand and President Truman on the other.

As viewed from the Pentagon, Eisenhower's assignment in Europe would not necessarily preclude the possibility of his becoming a presidential candidate. It is now contemplated that he would be asked to take the position of supreme commander for one year only—the vital first year of organization.

The posts of supreme commander in this first year would be at least as much diplomatic as mili-

Ship Grounded At Gull Island

GREEN BAY, Wis. — (AP) — The S. S. Lebanon, 538-foot Bethlehem Transportation Corp. ore carrier, is hard aground in St. Martin's Island passage, Coast Guard headquarters at Cleveland reported today.

The cutters Sundew, Hollyhock and Woodbine, and the icebreaker Mackinaw were dispatched to assist the 7,000-ton Lebanon.

The Lebanon's skipper is listed as Edward J. McGarry. There were 33 men aboard.

The Plum Island Coast Guard station reported it received an order from the Cleveland office to investigate the grounding of the Lebanon. A 40-foot motor boat was sent to the scene. The Roon Steamship company of Sturgeon Bay was also asked to dispatch a tug.

The Lebanon is on sand and gravel shoals between St. Martin's Island and Little Gull island. Although a 45-mile wind prevails, no serious damage to the boat was expected.

The Lebanon unloaded coal at the Reiss Coal company docks at Escanaba yesterday. She was scheduled to take a cargo of iron ore from the C&NW docks. The order was cancelled, however, and the Lebanon was light when she left.

Fraternity Fined $2,000 At Ann Arbor For Serving Liquor

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — The University of Michigan has ordered the local chapter of Psi Upsilon fraternity to pay a $2,000 fine for violating university rules on serving liquor.

The fraternity was also placed on social probation for the rest of the academic year.

University authorities announced the action yesterday after studying statements from chapter leaders and alumni. The undergraduates were charged with having a mixed party in the chapter house Nov. 3 at which "intoxicating liquors were had."

The university said a total of 23 couples — undergraduate men and women students — were present.

Charging that because of his age he could not get another job, Howland subsequently returned to Budd in a non-union job in the tool crib.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO — (AP) — Grains had difficulty in trying to extend their advance on the Board of Trade today. Soybeans and wheat opened higher, but the feed grains lagged behind. This was particularly true of corn. After the initial transactions were out of the way the market drifted lower.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 14 to 15 cent lower, December $2.24; corn, 10 to 11 cents lower, December $1.61; oats, 10 to 11 cents lower, December $1.05. Soybeans were unchanged to two cents lower, November $2.90; and hard was 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $15.50.

Recount Demanded To Restore Faith Of State Voters

type of mind to learn these duties properly. I hope to borrow as many attorneys as I can from various state agencies, although Mr. Roth says he cannot spare any assistant attorneys general for the job.

Alger said the 83 state supervisors will be called to a conference with Cleary, Staebler, Roth and himself to be given intensive training on the errors which the recount may uncover.

Sample error sheets will be printed for the guidance of the local recounters and supervisors, Alger said.

Alger said he and the other members of the state board will actively participate in the recount in areas where there were major errors found. "I intend to be in Wayne county myself as much as possible," he said.

Legal Tangles Studied
Under state law the recount will be done in each county by the county board of canvassers, which is composed of three citizens elected by the county board of supervisors. No member may be a supervisor or a candidate to any office. Two may be members of the same political party as the majority of the county officers.

In a recount the ballot boxes are brought to the county building, opened by the board and each ballot recounted. In the canvass now under way in all counties, the ballot boxes are not opened but the canvassers merely verify the tabulations on the tally sheets.

Roth turned his staff loose on a series of tough legal questions raised by Williams and Alger concerning the succession to the governorship.

The question Roth must answer is: Who will be acting governor if the recount is not completed by January 1, when the new administration takes office?

Roth said he hoped to have the answers by early next week.

Moscow Claims U. S. Jet Plane Menaced Red Hospital Craft

BERLIN — (AP) — The Russians have charged—and U. S. authorities quickly denied—that an American jet fighter endangered a Soviet hospital plane carrying French Communist leader Maurice Thorez to Moscow by swooshing within 10 yards of the craft.

Gen. Vassily Chulikov, chief of the Soviet forces in Germany, sent a formal protest to U. S. high commissioner John J. McCloy last night. It asserted the jet fighter threatened the Soviet plane despite Russian advance notice of the flight.

A U. S. Air Force spokesman at Frankfurt said the hospital ship had failed to contact the Rhein-main airport when it approached en route from Paris to Berlin last Saturday. He declared the U. S. plane then approached the craft—not closer than 500 feet—to identify it.

Thorez, meantime, arrived safely in Moscow, according to the Communist party newspaper Pravda. The French Red leader reportedly is partially paralyzed. He was accompanied to Moscow by his wife, a Russian doctor and a French Communist physician. Thorez is under treatment in a sanitarium "under the observation of Soviet and French doctors," Pravda reported.

McEwen Favored To Retain Title

CHICAGO — (AP) — Don McEwen of Michigan is favored to repeat as champion tomorrow in the 36th annual Big Ten cross country championship.

Nine schools will compete, with Michigan State making its debut in Big 10 athletic competition. Northwestern will not be represented. The event will be held at Washington park, near the University of Chicago.

As a sophomore last year, McEwen won the cross country title in record time of 19:44.5. The previous record, by Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin, was 20:26.4.

Wisconsin is defending team champion. Michigan fruit and vegetable growers may run into local insecticide shortages in 1951, say MSC agricultural economists in their outlook opinions. Orders should be placed early, particularly for those containing chlorine and benzene, such as DDT, toxaphene, chlordane, and benzene hexachloride.

Felton Pedals Again; Loses

DETROIT — (AP) — It would be nice to write that welterweight Lester Felton had fought his way back into the hearts of his hometown fans with a decisive win last night.

But Lester was still a backpedalist as he dropped a ten-round decision to hard-hitting Gene Hairston of New York in Olympian stadium.

It was win No. 11 in a row for Hairston, a deaf mute who lets his fists do his talking for him.

Felton started out fast in the first round. He threw a lot of leather and took a commanding lead. But midway in the second round he got tagged hard and immediately jumped on his bicycle again.

From then on, Hairston was the aggressor.

The scrap drew a tiny crowd of 4,393.

In a companion 10-round middleweight Ray Barnes of Detroit made Anton Raadik of Chicago a punching bag before flattening him in the ninth round.

Joe Garza, Detroit welterweight, hung up his 19th straight win by knocking out Lonnie Allison of Buffalo in the second round.

Jimmy Red Elby of Toledo knocked out Eddie Grambrell of Detroit in 1:52 of the fourth.

In the best scrap of the night Chuck Davey of Detroit ran his pro win streak to nine straight as he outlasted Joe Brown of Buffalo before stopping him in the second.

Davey, former Michigan State boxing star, was razor sharp with his punches.

Yugoslavia Grateful For Western Aid, But Sticks To Communism

LONDON — (AP) — Marshall Tito says Yugoslavia is grateful for help received from western nations but has no intention of being wooed away from Communism.

Tanjung, the official Yugoslav news agency, said Tito set forth this view in an address to an organization of disabled war veterans in Belgrade yesterday.

Both the United States and Britain recently have made large loans to tide Yugoslavia over a threatened winter famine.

October Gale Cost Florida 28 Million

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — A small but vicious tropical hurricane which swept the entire length of the Florida peninsula in mid-October was officially labeled today as a $28,000,000 storm.

Grady Norton, chief forecaster in Miami, said in his official report to the U. S. weather bureau in Washington, D. C., that the storm took four lives, severely injured 16, and caused minor injuries to 183 persons.

Pigeon Named Jim Is Deputy Sheriff

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — (AP) — San Bernardino county has a new deputy sheriff named Little Jim.

He is a pigeon. He and others of his breed, performing as carrier birds, have been successfully used by search parties when radio facilities were not available.

Jim was sworn in at a special ceremony. Sheriff James (Big Jim) Stocker presented him with a tiny badge, which was tied around his neck. And to make it official, they had Little Jim put his claw prints on a fingerprint card which was placed in the permanent file.

A good ventilation system is a necessity for the dairy barn, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers. Continuous breathing of damp, foul air lowers the vitality of cows and makes them more susceptible to disease.

Troops Of UN Get Nearer Manchuria

side of the great Changlin reservoir in the center of the peninsula. Marine 105 MM. guns supported two Marine companies in a clash with the Reds.

Seventy miles to the southwest, the ROK first corps hammered its way back into the town of Tokchon and recaptured positions along the road linking Tokchon with Kunu.

Navy Rescues ROK Unit

The ROK corps is on the right flank of the U. S. First corps which made Thursday's sweeping and unopposed advance in the Far West.

South Korean, British and American forces, comprising this corps, advanced as much as three miles to the north, and stretched out their line to both the west and east. Even patrols reaching far in front of the advance were unable to contact solid enemy positions.

Thursday's advance came the day after a heavy Red assault's center ROK-held sectors around Tokchon and on the northeast coast.

American naval guns and planes came to the rescue of the battered ROK troops on the northeast coast. Eight-inch guns of the U. S. cruiser Rochester and rockets of marine and naval planes wiped out half of a Red battalion which made an amphibious landing behind the ROK lines, the U. S. Tenth corps said.

The Red battalion was made up of North Korean marine officer cadets from a training school at Changjin. It landed from small boats to bulwark a heavy land attack along the 15 mile, snow-covered northeastern front. Communists punched five holes in the ROK line before they were checked.

Back of the lines U. N. divisions were chopping down the size of bypassed North Korean forces operating now as guerrillas. Two hundred Reds surrendered to the newly arrived U. S. Third division near Wonsan on the east coast.

Successful behind-the-lines operations permitted the opening of the east coast port of Hungnam, most northerly U. N. port, and opening railways to speed winter clothing to chilled troops on the front lines.

Temperatures on the western front rose from near zero to above freezing. This was the signal for the advance, despite the driving sleet.

On the extreme left flank, the ROK First division moved up nearly four miles along a four mile front, taking over high ground west of Pakchon.

The British Commonwealth 27th brigade occupied Pakchon, and drove forward about three miles.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Maryland's Jim Tatum offers the theory that modern defensive football has just about done away with the practice of signaling plays from the bench. "When I was in college," said Jim, "I was quarterback although I played tackle. . . . On every play, one of the ends would look at the bench for the signal and relay it to me. . . . Now they change defenses on every play and a coach would be silly to signal a play after looking at the setup. . . . The quarterback has to be a coach instead. . . . If a well-balanced attack is what wins football games, how come Rutgers only has a 4-3 record? After seven games, Rutgers has a net gain of 1,083 yards by rushing and 1,083 yards by passing.

Shorts and Shells

When Oklahoma Quarterback Claude Arnold passed for four touchdowns against Kansas last Saturday, it was the first time a Sooner sharp-shooter had performed such a feat since Shot Geyer did it back in 1915. . . . Betcha didn't know they were flinging passes so freely in those days. Oklahoma did. . . . Ed Olson, the St. Louis Flyers hockey player, also works as a batting practice pitcher for the Cardinals. . . . Arizona's football team claims the largest attendance in proportion to population of any college team. "There aren't more people in Arizona, but they all come," says Athletic Director Pop McKale.

Cleaning The Cuff

Mainstay of the Manhattan college basketball team this winter likely will be 6-3 Junius Kellogg of Portsmouth, Va., who had a year's experience at West Virginia State Teachers and three in the Army. . . . Jose Gatica, Charley Johnston's South American lightweight, is in a pet about the Commission rule that prevents his wearing red trunks in fights. He upholds his reputation as a "colorful" fighter by switching three pairs of ring shoes — red, white and blue, to suit the occasion. . . . Another fashion note: The Chicago White Sox will wear pin stripe home uniforms next season. That may make them look like the Yankees until the first game starts.

BROTHERS COMING UP

Miss Thompson Is On Her Toes

Miss Thompson has a great deal of responsibility to you . . . to your children . . . to your community. She's a school teacher. Every day she influences the citizens of tomorrow. She has to be on her toes. She has to have answers to hundreds of questions. She must know about current events as well as facts in the text books she uses. That is why she reads her daily newspaper. In it she finds the facts about what took place, plus qualified opinions about why it took place and what should be done about it. Her daily newspaper is one of the principal reasons she is a match for the youngsters who greet her every day with unexpected questions and observations. Her newspaper notifies her of lectures as well as meetings. It gives freely of its space for telling the community about the play her students are presenting . . . the special activities in which she is interested . . . new books which will assist her in her work. Yes, Miss Thompson is molding tomorrow's citizens, but she couldn't do it without her newspaper. In fact her daily newspaper is her every day assistant — as it is yours.

TV May Stump Memphis Censor

Binford Undecided On Racial Equality

By ROBERT C. RUARK
MEMPHIS—Mr. Lloyd T. Binford, the bull censor of Memphis is confronted with a new and horrifying medium to test his mettle, and may wind up as the most frustrated censor in the land.

Television has come to Memphis, thereby posing quite a problem for Mr. Binford, who has long fought a valiant battle against anything in the entertainment business which might show the Negro in a light of equality. When he banned a film called "Imitation of Life," he said it illustrated "one of the most disgusting cases of racial equality I have ever seen." He also slew a comedy called "Curley" because, he said, it showed equality between children of different races.

Banned "Lost Boundaries"

Mr. Binford has a long, proud record in the banning business. He cut an oldie called "King of Kings," a Biblical show. He banned "Lost Boundaries" while approving "Pinky," a story of a Negro girl who was light enough to pass for white, but decided not to.

He also banned a road show version of "Annie Get Your Gun," because "Negroes sing and dance on equal terms with white performers." He killed "Duel in the Sun," one of the dullest hoo-operas ever compounded and in this instance did the town a favor.

But in the case of television Mr. Binford is undecided. He tells me he has never seen a television show, which is just as well for his heart, because all sorts of horrifying examples of racial equality are in daily evidence.

Mr. Arthur Godfrey, who gets into more Southern homes than the South's entire population of meter readers, steadily employs a mixed quartet called "The Mariners." Horror of horrors, the Mariners are composed of two white, two black, and they sing on equal terms with each other, and with Mr. Godfrey and his other white associates.

Then there is the awful example of Jack Benny and Rochester. Rochester is declared a Negro and often winds up as the sly superior of his boss, Mr. Benny. He is sarcastic with Mr. Benny, and taunts him all the time, and makes crack behind his back. This would be unsettling to Mr. Binford, I am sure.

Negro Performers Win

Then you got Ethel Waters, a Negro lady, playing a recent TV show called "Beulah," and, of course, most of the talent and variety shows feature Negro entertainers. Recently, on a Cedric Adams talent show, a little Negro boy won hands down over a flock of white competition.

We have also the reissuing of all the old movies for the video screen, possibly many of the very movies banned by Mr. Binford. The equalizing effect on Memphis' children must be terrifying indeed, since I note that the old "Our Gang" comedies are being replayed for TV—over, of all things, Howdy Doodie, a children's program. If I remember rightly, the most appealing member of the gang was Farina, a little Negro boy with a runny nose.

Mr. Binford tells me he does not believe that he can censor television so long as people see it at home, and is also somewhat dubious about the possibility of banning it in public places.

"I will cross that bridge when I come to it," Mr. Binford says, "but I imagine some sort of legal structure could be set up to protect the public, if this becomes necessary."

Television is red hot in the South, and on its screen, at least, equality is rampant. It would be odd indeed if the coaxial cable eventually takes up where Abe Lincoln left off, despite the valiant effort of Mr. Binford in other fields of artistic endeavor.

Naked Hussy Shows Innards For Science

By NEA SERVICE
CLEVELAND, O.—(NEA)—There's a woman in Cleveland who has absolutely no modesty at all. The hussy stands out a platform stark naked, and lets people look at her appendix. And, to make matters worse, she actually brags about it.

Her shamelessness is all for science, however. The gal is transparent (what gal isn't?) and she talks all the time (what gal doesn't?) and she's a dummy (what gal—oops, sorry). The transparent talking dummy is a new display at the Cleveland Health Museum.

It is designed to instruct people in the workings of their inner organs. Under its plastic skin visitors can see the bones, arteries, nerves and main organs. All are in natural color and located just where they should be.

The transparent tootsie stands on a turntable which revolves. Each organ—there are 24 in the display—lights up, and "she" talks about its functions. Among those "she" discusses are her brain, lungs, heart, liver, stomach and appendix.

The gal has one sister and three brothers, who live (and are exhibited) in New York, Rochester, Minn., Buffalo, N. Y., and Chicago. But Cleveland's transparent woman is the only girl in the family who talks.

They're all German by birth, if you can call that birth. A father and son from Cologne built this girl, the youngest in the family, after they had fled from Dresden, in the Russian Zone. It was in Dresden that they had constructed the earlier transparent figures.

It takes six and one-quarter miles of wire to make the girl's innards visible. And, in case you're interested, she has a pretty neat little shape. Her bust is only one-quarter of an inch less than the Venus de Milo's. Maybe she ought to talk about that.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation Is Issued In Lansing

LANSING — (AP)—Proclaiming Thursday, Nov. 23, as Thanksgiving Day in Michigan, Governor Williams issued the following proclamation.

"This year, the citizens of the United States, far more than those of other nations, have reason to thank God for many blessings.

"In a world torn by strife and misunderstanding, America stands firm as the symbol of liberty and freedom under which men everywhere may have hope, and an opportunity to plan and work for a better future, a chance to attain peace and a more abundant life for themselves and their children.

"Throughout the nation and in Michigan particularly, our material gifts have been great. Orchards and fields have yielded bountifully, industries have prospered, enterprises flourished, there has been and there promises to be a livelihood for all.

"More and more we have turned to our places of worship in search of the inspiration, strength and guidance to be found only in religion. Through sharing our goods and our homes with citizens of lands under tyrannical oppression and joining with other freedom-loving nations in combating the spread of such oppression, we have carried out, in ever fuller measure, God's mandate to love one another.

"For all these blessings, as a nation and as individuals, we are truly grateful.

"Therefore, I, G. Mennen Williams, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim Thursday, Nov. 23, 1950, as Thanksgiving Day in Michigan, and urge our people to observe this day in their homes and places of worship with prayers and Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the countless material and spiritual blessings He bestowed on us during the past year."

Output Of Eggs, Milk And Potatoes Set New Records

LANSING—(AP)—Michigan milk and egg production broke records in October and the per acre yield of potatoes went to the highest point in history, the federal-state crop reporting service said.

Milk production totaled 448,000,000 pounds for the highest October total on record. Eggs produced in October totaled 106,000,000, to bring the total production to 1,455,000,000 so far this year, or 11 per cent more than the same time last year.

Potato yields increased five bushels per acre during October to bring the average to 180 bushels, 15 bushels over last year's previous record and 12 bushels over the average.

Production of feed grains (corn, oats and barley) dropped to 20 per cent below last year, due mostly to a much smaller corn crop. Feed grain tonnage totaled 2,423,740 this year, the smallest crop in three years.

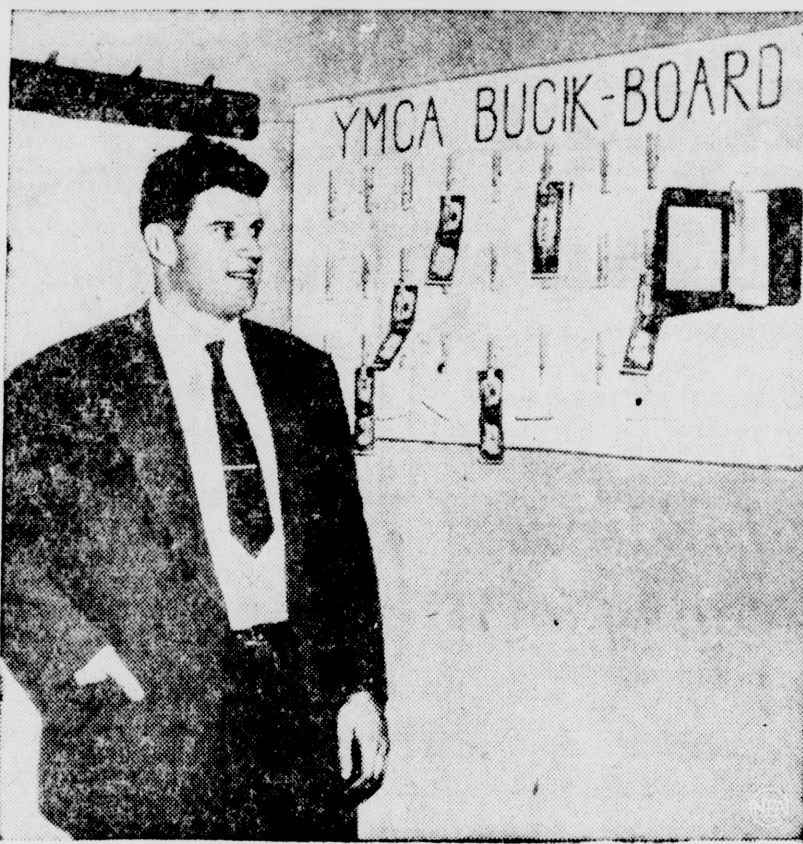

The 88-pound-per-acre yield of dry beans, the 10 ton yield of sugar beets and the 20.5 bushel yield of soybeans in October all were increased over the previous month.

The production of apples, estimated at 7,020,000 bushels, is nearly 4,000,000 bushels under last year's bumper crop, and the 812,000-bushel estimated pear crop is one-third below last year's record crop.

Clothing Drive
Opens Sunday In Marquette Diocese

MARQUETTE—An emergency drive for clothing and bedding will be conducted in all parishes of the Diocese of Marquette from November 19 to 26. The drive is sponsored by the NCWC, War Relief Services. In the past week the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, ordinary of the Marquette Diocese, pledged the support of Upper Michigan Catholics to the drive and ordered the diocesan war fund director, Rev. David P. Spelgatti to organize the campaign.

The warehouses of War Relief Services have been emptied as the result of an emergency appeal made by the unified command of the United Nations forces for clothing, bedding, and other relief supplies needed for more than 2,000,000 victims of war in Korea.

Because the amount sent is far short of what is needed in Korea, and because aid, especially clothing, is still needed for the several additional millions of ex-peeles and refugees in Europe and the Near East, the War Relief Services has asked for this emergency drive for clothing, bedding and shoes.

Need Is Described

The pitiful need of the Koreans was described in two letters received recently from the Rev. George M. Carroll, War Relief Services representative, stationed in Seoul, Korea:

September 27: "So far as the civilians are concerned, Korea is just one huge refugee camp. First crushed by the Red army steamroller almost down to the southern tip, and then caught in the backlash as the Reds fled before our advancing GIs (God bless 'em), men, women, and children wander everywhere during the day and huddle under every conceivable type of makeshift shelter at night.

"It is estimated that more than 2,000,000 people have fled their homes. In one refugee camp of 200,000, at least 100 babies a week are being born. Most of these 200,000 people, including pregnant mothers, are living in the open. Little children are ill-clad and ill-fed. Oldsters are dying from exposure.

"The conditions in the hospitals are indescribable. No beds. No blankets. No medicine. Gangrene is rampant and no tetanus serum is available and so many die of wounds who could be saved by inoculation. Armies must take care of soldiers. Civilians shift for themselves. We understand help is on the way. God help these unfortunate people if it does not come soon!"

Rice Crop Lost

October 5: "This winter will be a most serious time here in Korea. They will have nothing with which to make up for the losses they are sustaining these days. Most of the rice crops can be counted off as a loss. Cloth and clothes are almost impossible to obtain. A lot of people are going to die of the cold and many more are going to suffer untold hardship this winter unless relief can be supplied in quantity before the cold weather is with us very long. It will be a big task and will require the combined efforts of many different groups. Special appeals will have to be made for clothing and food stuffs. Some of that heavy underwear and layettes like you sent before will come in very handy. Sweaters and dresses and dungarees for men and boys. In brief, clothing, more clothing, and still more clothing."

Bethany Appeals
For Clothing

Bethany Ev. Lutheran church in Escanaba is sponsoring the annual appeal for clothing for overseas and asks that anyone able to help take usable clean clothing to the church, 210 South 11th street, tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 17. Another collection will be held Friday, Nov. 24. Last year more than 800,000 pounds of clothing, shoes and bedding were donated at the time of this general Thanksgiving appeal and reached Australia, Palestine, Japan and other places just before the peak

The next meeting of the club will be held December 5.

Women's Day
Of Recollection
Service Friday

Arrangements have been completed for a Day of Recollection for the women of the city at St. Patrick's church Friday, Nov. 17. The Reverend James Kelley, of the Redemptorist Order, of Chicago, will give the conferences. Father Kelley has come to Escanaba for the annual Forty Hours observance at St. Patrick's which will take place Nov. 19, 20 and 21.

The schedule for the Day of Recollection will open with Holy Mass at 9:00 in the morning at St. Patrick's church, after which the first conference will be held. Breakfast will be served in the church hall following this conference. Mrs. Donald Leffire will give a brief history of Venerable Rose Philippine Duchesne, whose feast day is Nov. 17, at this time. There will be a question box in the church hall into which any questions may be placed.

The afternoon session will open at 2:15, with a second conference by Father Kelley. Following this will be an open discussion of the group, led by Father Kelley, of the questions from the box. The closing conference at 4 o'clock will be followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

All women of the parish and of the area are cordially invited by St. Patrick's pastor, Father Martin Melican, to take part in the exercises of the day.

Fair Store 62nd
Anniversary Party
Held Last Night

Seventy-one members of the Fair Store Family, headed by Albert Laviolette who has been a member of the staff 47 years, were guests at the 62nd anniversary employees' banquet last evening in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington.

Charles Gessner, president of the business, gave the address of the evening on the topic, "A Good Store in a Good Town," and informal talks were given by senior members of the staff, Mr. Laviolette, John Peterson, Margaret Brown and Myrtle Perry. Group singing was led by Fred Johnson and the informal program also included "Crow" entertainment by the losing sales team and songs by Walter Gutsmir and Mr. Johnson. Med Beaudoin was toastmaster of the dinner program.

Safety Director
Speaker At Club
Dinner Meeting

Speaking of a problem of major importance to the American people, Escanaba's director of public safety, Glenford Leonard, told the members of the Escanaba Business and Professional Woman's Club at the Sherman Hotel Tuesday night that the possibility of an A-bomb attack and its destructive potential should not be viewed with indifference and complacency.

"We must recognize our problem," he said, "which is planning on what to do if war comes, not planning on how to prevent attacks and wars. We can't sit idle and say that wars have never come to our shores and they never will. We have to realize that war and attack are ever-present possibilities."

"It may be assumed that in any A-bomb attack the detonation point will be 2000 feet of altitude. From experience in the last war we may judge the area of destruction, and we would have to deal with four disastrous effects—fire, concussion, wind and radio-activity."

Protective Measures
While Escanaba might not be a primary target, it could be the object of an A-bomb attack. He discussed the probable results of such an attack, and pointed out that to meet such a disaster machinery should be set up to provide for volunteer auxiliary firemen and policemen and other units to meet emergency needs.

Mentioning Federal reports covering a study of the problem and surveys that have been made, he declared that it is a responsibility of the cities to pass ordinances for civilian defense, and mutual aid with other cities and communities should be provided for.

In Escanaba, he said, there are now 18 First Aid instructors, and by the first of the year classes will be established for First Aid courses throughout the city. Within a short time, also, organization meetings will be held for volunteer auxiliary firemen and policemen here.

Problem Exists
In conclusion he emphasized that there is a problem and we have to know it. There should be no lack of realization that the problem exists. Planning for disaster preparedness is of vital importance and citizens should be willing to do their part by volunteering their services.

Following Mr. Leonard's talk a short business meeting was held. Arrangements for the next meeting of the club will be made by the legislation committee, of which Helen Elaine Stenson is chairman.

Violet Finstrom
Is The Bride Of
Roy A. Sanville

Miss Violet Linnea Elizabeth Finstrom, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Victor Finstrom of Gladstone Route One, and Roy A. Sanville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sanville sr., of Cornell were married at 4 p. m. Saturday, November 11, at Bethany Ev. Lutheran church by Rev. Gustav Lund.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Edna Finstrom, maid of honor, and Mrs. Edith Johnson, bridesmaid. Alan Sanville was best man and Aaron Johnson, jr., groomsmen.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin and carried white baby mums and red roses with white satin shower ribbons. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. The bride's bridesmaids wore similar gowns of satin and faille, the maid of honor's, salmon colored, and the bridesmaid's lime green. They carried harmonizing bouquets of baby mums and carnations and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Mrs. Sanville wore a black dress with a red rose corsage.

A wedding supper for 60 guests was served at the bride's home. The bride's table was centered with the traditional wedding cake with red roses and white tables in candelabra at either end. Decorations of pink, white and green were used throughout the home. A wedding dance at the Flat Rock town hall followed the supper.

The newlyweds, after their honeymoon trip will live in Detroit. For traveling the bride selected a red suit with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Anderson of Sault Ste. Marie, Miss Edna Finstrom of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. L. O'Dess of Detroit attended the wedding.

Several Hazards In Deer Hunting

Hunter Cut On Wrist While Dressing Buck

Getting shot isn't the only hazard of deer hunting, it appears.

Vince Wilbee and Jim Damitz, hunting from the Wilbee camp on the Taconish River west of Rapid River, both filled their licenses shortly after daybreak within whistling distance of each other and assisted each other in dressing the bucks. Wilbee was handling the knife when it slipped or the blade got stuck in the right wrist inflicting a cut which required five stitches to close.

They came to Gladstone about 11 o'clock in the morning where Damitz had the wound attended to, got an anti-tetanus shot and then they returned to camp.

Damitz had one consolation: he wouldn't be called upon to wash dishes.

His buck was a 12 pointer, weighing an estimated 175 pounds. Wilbee's deer was a six pointer, 150 pounds.

Fred DeMay and another chap hunting with him whose name could not be learned, got six-pointers in the vicinity of Fernwood cemetery the opening morning.

Lionel Sabourin, city, downed an 8-point buck which he estimated weighed 200 pounds about 7:30 the opening morning near the fire tower above Rapid River.

LeRoy (Sonny) Jacobsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jacobsen, got a 160 pound buck on Peninsula Point near Stonington the first morning.

Hunting near the old Oberg-Westling camp north of Rapid River are Gust Lierman and son John, August Boden and son, Joe, John VanDunne, Joe Hillewaert and John Hillewaert.

Mrs. Alethea Rossow, Days River, downed a 6 point buck at 7:45 on opening morning at the Wilbur Cowell camp at Stonington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cowell and Maurice Buckmiller are hunting at the Harvey Cowell camp in the Stonington area.

Senior Girl Scouts At Outdoor Workshop Today

Members of Girl Scout Troop No. 7, its leaders and troop committee members left this noon for Marquette to attend an outdoor activities workshop at the Guild hall to be given by Miss Catherine Hammett of Vermont.

Miss Hammett was formerly director of the Camping at Girl Scout National Headquarters and is the author of "Your Own Book of Campcraft" and "Campcraft ABC's." She has an international and national reputation and is known in camping circles as "top" in her field.

She is a skilled teacher and will definitely fit the workshop program to the needs of the group. The emphasis will be on the things that can be done in regular meeting time and in and near the troop meeting place. There is a definite progression in the topics discussed and the program planned.

Some of the things Miss Hammett has been asked to discuss are: First Steps in Outdoor Activities for Troops, Progression in Skill, Planning for Hikes and Outings, Outdoor Food, Trail Blazing and planning for Outdoor Activities in a Troop. Games and Songs will form a part of the program.

The workshop has two sessions: from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

The work covered is expected to prove invaluable to the girls of Troop 7 in their own troop program and in their work as program aides with other troops and at Day Camp next summer.

Troop members attending include Bearice Brusoe, Sue D'Amour, Kay DeHooghe, Therese Harris, Pat Hanson, Mary Alice Krout, Pat Leser, Mary Lee Mackie, Nancy Martin, Mary Ellen Sepic, Janet Sinclair and Rosemary Willis. Also attending will be leaders Mrs. E. A. D'Amour and Mrs. Ray Gazlay, troop committee members Mrs. Bernard DeHooghe and Mrs. I. S. Willis and drivers Mrs. E. H. Skellenger and Mrs. Clifford Kinney.

Autos Damaged In 3-Way Crash

Escanaban Fined For Reckless Driving

Damage totaling several hundred dollars was caused in a three car accident Tuesday night about 10:30 o'clock at the intersection of Ninth and Delta avenues.

Norman Brunette, 21, 1715 1/2 Third Avenue North, Escanaba, traveling north on Ninth or Highway US-2, struck broadside an auto driven by Ferris K. Auger, 18, of 509 South Eighth street, Escanaba, who was driving east on Delta. The Auger auto was forced into the wrong lane of traffic on Delta and struck headon a car driven by Howard Potvin, 20, Rapid River, who had stopped for the light.

Brunette told city police officers who investigated that he thought he could get through the warning light before it changed to red.

Arraigned yesterday on a charge of reckless driving in the court of Justice O. C. Estenson, Brunette pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and assessed court costs of $6.60. On a charge of driving without an operator's license he paid costs of $4.60.

Board Studies Building Plan

Schools To Face Enrollment Crisis

The proposed reopening of Riverside school and construction of additional classroom space at the Central school were discussed by members of the Manistique board of education Tuesday night, but the matters were tabled for further study.

A. F. Hall, city school superintendent, explained to the board the "bulge" in kindergarten enrollment expected during 1952 and 1953. This sharp increase, he said, was indicated by a preschool census taken early last summer, and would tax existing kindergarten classroom space beyond capacity.

He also pointed to the expected over-saturation in the local junior high school enrollment when the 1952-1953 "bulge" hits the seventh grade in 1959.

The superintendent provided each board member with a tabulated sheet showing various grade enrollments over a period of years. Forms showing proposed construction and estimated costs also were given to the board for study.

Addition Suggested

The reopening of Riverside school, necessitating some expense for remodeling, re-equipping and a new boiler, was suggested by Hall as the best solution for meeting the increased kindergarten enrollment in the fall of 1952. He recommended that a two-story extension be constructed on the north end of the junior high school building to provide four additional classrooms, which, he pointed out, would be adequate to meet the expected seventh grade "bulge" in 1959.

Maintenance of the current three mill debt service tax in the city would provide adequate funds to finance the proposed building program, board members were told. This would eliminate the necessity of passing a bond issue but would require a special ballot to get public approval for continuing the three mill charge.

No Increase In Taxes

The school's bonded indebtedness will be fully liquidated in the winter of 1950, the superintendent points out, and the debt service tax would, therefore, be eliminated unless approved for the new building program. This would mean, he said, that the program could be financed without any increase over the school tax assessed in Manistique for many years.

The proposed program will be further explored by board members at future meetings, it was decided. It also was suggested that citizens' groups be advised of the crisis facing the public schools here and of the need for expanding local facilities to meet it.

U. P. Potato Gets Publicity

Story Printed In Trade Paper

Nation-wide publicity for Manistique and the Upper Peninsula potato crop has been obtained as the result of an article published in the November 11 issue of The Packer, national fruit and vegetable trade paper, it is reported by Lester Richards, who was general chairman of the recent Upper Peninsula Potato Show here.

The article was written by Bob Marchant, staff writer for the newspaper, who attended the show here and took notes on the business session devoted to improved marketing practices for Upper Peninsula potatoes.

The paper, published in Chicago, with offices in New York, Cincinnati, Kansas City and Los Angeles, carried a large headline across the top of the page, "Focus on Production Progress at Michigan's Upper Peninsula Potato Show". The story was a factual report on what took place at the show, including a review of talks and a panel discussion on marketing practices. The paper is circulated primarily among buyers, dealers and distributors of fruits and vegetables.

"The appearance of this article in an important trade paper like The Packer is of inestimable value to the Upper Peninsula potato growers," Richards said. "It is the first time, to my knowledge, when the U. P. crop has obtained such nation-wide advertising."

Clubwomen Hear Story Of UN, World Problems, In Panel Discussion Tuesday

By MRS. EARL LEBRASSEUR

A grave, "not too pretty", but accurate and factual picture of the present situation as it concerns the United Nations and some of its problem countries, was presented to members of the Manistique Women's club at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon during an informative panel discussion arranged by the club's international relations committee.

Mrs. John W. Kelly, chairman of the international relations group, outlined the history of the United Nations and explained the functions and structure of its various sections: security council, general assembly, economic and social council, trusteeship council, and international court of justice.

Mrs. William J. Sheahan traced oppressions and background of Korea up to the present conflict.

China Focal Point

Mrs. Robert Slining, in her discussion of China, pointed out that the balance of power between communism and democracy hangs in the 700 million people living just beyond China's borders.

The precarious position of India-China as the bridge from India to China, and the country in general, were reviewed by Mrs. George Wood.

Mrs. Keith Bundy showed why Iran is fertile soil for communism with its vast amounts of oil, mineral and agricultural wealth. The quagmire situation confronting the United Nations concerning Yugoslavia was discussed by Mrs. Carl Makel.

A situation in Germany which could be comparable to the Korean one was presented by Mrs. K. P. Van Eyck.

In closing, Mrs. Kelly summarized the panel discussion by saying: "This subject should be of paramount interest to all Americans because the United Nations holds the key to world peace. Will these difficulties be settled by the peaceful ministrations of the UN or will they be settled by the wasteful process of war? We can only hope that the nations of the world who have sacrificed their sons in battle for years will finally realize that war is futile and demand that their leaders arbitrate their disputes for the ultimate cause of world peace."

Donations Voted

Miss Jean Carlson, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mauritz Carlson, sang two vocal solos, "My Johann" by Edward Grieg and "In a Luxembourg Garden" by Kathleen Manning. She was accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Hall.

During the business session, it was voted to donate $10 to the Manistique Boy and Girl Scout drive and $10 to the Upper Peninsula nurses scholarship fund.

The next regular meeting, Nov. 26, was designated as guest day and also the day for club members to bring gifts of toys or clothing for the Christmas baskets being prepared by the club's welfare committee.

Refreshments were served from an attractively appointed table by the following committee: Mrs. C. E. Moore, chairman; Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur, Mrs. J. L. LeDuc, Mrs. N. H. Modders, Mrs. Merle E. Wehner, Mrs. R. W. Jackson, Mrs. Willard Bollino, and Mrs. Wm. J. Shinar.

The first floor of the block is occupied by Cliff's Market, the Eat Shop and part of the DMC store.

Masonry was organized in Manistique 64 years ago, and in 1935 Lakeside lodge observed its Golden Jubilee.

The following new books have been ordered for the Manistique public library, it is announced: Rosa-Too-Little—Sue Felt. Passage to America—Katherine Shippen.

PMA Ballots Being Mailed

Farmers Can Vote Until December 21

Township ballots listing the names of candidates for election as PMA Community Committee-men and as delegates to the county PMA annual convention are being mailed to all eligible farmer-voters in Schoolcraft county, according to Joseph I. Hardy, of Cooks, chairman of the present Schoolcraft county PMA committee.

The mailing of ballots will be completed prior to November 24, Hardy said, and farmers who receive ballots will have until December 21 in which to mark their ballots and return them, either by mail or in person, to the county PMA office.

All ballots received in the county PMA office through December 21 will be counted on December 22 by an impartial three-man election board.

Names of nominees for the following positions will appear on the official ballots: Chairman of community committee; vice chairman; regular member; first and second alternates; delegate and alternate delegate to the county PMA convention.

The newly elected community committees and delegates will take office on December 29 and will serve throughout 1951.

Elected delegates to the county convention will meet in the county PMA office on December 29 to elect a county PMA committee consisting of the chairman, vice chairman, regular member and chairman, regular member and vice chairman, who will serve during 1951.

Eligible voters are any owners, operators, tenants, or sharecroppers on a farm that is participating in this year in any program administered by the county and community PMA committees.

Any farmer who does not receive a ballot through the mail and believes he is eligible to vote is urged to call or write the county PMA committee for clarification of his status.

Hardy said he is issuing a call to all eligible farmers in Schoolcraft county to vote in these community elections because, "only by voting can a democracy be made to work."

Social

Extension Club

Lakeside Home Extension club No. 2 met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Omer Delvik, 500 Range street. The group worked on the making of festive Christmas candles. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the session.

Handy Hands Club

The Handy Hands extension club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Emory Rieckhoff, 440 Delta avenue.

Mrs. Fred Davis, jr. gave the instructions on the making of the Christmas candles.

At the close of the evening a delicious lunch was served.

George Nicholson Honored

George Nicholson was the guest of honor at a birthday party given at his home, 107 Lake street, Tuesday evening by Mrs. Nicholson. Mrs. A. M. LeRoy was the assisting hostess. The occasion was in observance of his 67th birthday anniversary.

During the evening cards were played and prizes were awarded to Dr. James Fyvie and Mrs. Glen Critton in bridge. Mrs. George Shaw and Glen Critton were given the prizes in canasta.

A decorated birthday cake surrounded by pressed oak leaves formed the centerpiece of the table. The luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Mr. Nicholson received many gifts.

Mrs. E. Taylor To Present Scandian Script To PTA

Mrs. Elwood Taylor will present an original script on Scandinavian folk plays at the meeting of the Lakeside-Central PTA tonight at Lakeside school.

The script will deal with the background of the Scandinavian peoples and contain interesting facts about natives of Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Mrs. Taylor, who is well known here for her Scandinavian dialect readings, will intersperse her presentation with humorous stories and anecdotes.

The program will also include selections by the Accordion Ensemble, Manistique's newly formed music group.

Mrs. Ralph Williams is November program chairman for the PTA group.

Many of our National Forests are still in a development stage needing a regular annual financial aid to make them fully productive. Urgently needed are a stepped-up program of tree planting, more intensive timber management work, increase in access road construction, timber stand improvement work on immature stands, intensified fire control, acquisition of intermingled private lands within national forest boundaries, and many other activities.

Briefly Told

Bake Sale At Gulliver—The King's Daughters of the First Baptist church of Gulliver will hold a bake sale Saturday at Klagstad's Store, Gulliver, starting at 1 p. m.

Christmas Tree Up—The annual community Christmas tree has been put up by city employees on the triangle at the intersection of Deer and Cedar streets. The tree will be strung with lights later. City workers also have placed evergreen decorations on the various light standards in the business district, immediately under the new Christmas light fixtures installed two weeks ago.

Two Boys Learn Lesson—Two little Manistique boys, about seven and eight years of age, have probably learned that crime doesn't pay. A few nights ago the boys broke into a residence on Michigan avenue and took a 33 calibre revolver with shells, a watch, and several pocket knives.

Parents of one of the boys found the gun and soon learned the whole story. Besides vigorous wooded treatment at home, the boys suffered the additional indignity of appearing before local state police. State police said the boys will think several times before repeating their adventure.

Plan Christmas Party—Manistique Council No. 2026, Knights of Columbus, made plans for its annual Christmas party at the regular council meeting Monday night. The party will be held Monday evening, December 18, at the K-C clubrooms, River street. The group also approved the sponsoring of a basketball team in the local juvenile league, Kaoul Bertrand, district deputy for the Knights of Columbus, announced that members are requested to attend Holy Communion in a body Dec. 3 as a spiritual bouquet for Pope Pius XII, in commemoration of Holy Year.

Pays Fine Here—Roger Moley, 19, of Highland, Ill., paid a fine of $25 and costs of $3.75 in municipal court here Tuesday afternoon after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving. Moley was ticketed by state police when the car which he was driving Saturday evening rolled over west of the Cooks school after approaching a sharp turn too fast. Alden J. Segerstrom, 22, Manistique, was fined $5, including costs, Tuesday afternoon for skidding and spinning a truck on icy city streets.

Two Game Cases—Martin Sinkler, of Macomb county, and Emilio Oberto each paid $10 fines and costs of $7.25 in municipal court Tuesday afternoon for carrying loaded guns in a game area Tuesday morning, the day before the deer season opened. Sinkler was arrested in Thompson township by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin who found him carrying a shotgun loaded with buckshot. Oberto was apprehended in Germfask township by Conservation Officer Harold Peters. He had a loaded rifle in a game area. Both men pleaded guilty before V. P. Deemer, justice of the peace.

Bake Sale—The Wood's Ladies Aid will sponsor a bake sale Friday at the Co-op Store. The sale will last from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Special Masses—On Sundays, November 19, and 26, there will be a special mass for the hunters at 5:00 a. m. in the St. Francis de Sales church. The other masses will be at 8, 10, and 11:30 a. m.

Instruction Classes—Special classes in Christian Doctrine for the Catholic children and people of the Green School-Gulliver area will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in the Green School. The Rev. George Pernaski and the Franciscan Sisters of the St. Francis de Sales Parish will be in charge.

Teachers Ask Salary Raise

Bonus Promised If Cash Is Available

Teachers of Schoolcraft county are asking for a salary increase over that set in contracts, it was learned at the regular meeting of the Manistique board of education Tuesday night.

A letter from the county MEA group, read at the meeting, urged that school boards give consideration to such an increase this year in view of the increase in living costs which has occurred since contracts were signed. Similar letters, it was reported, were dispatched to other boards of education in the county.

Members of the Manistique Teachers' club also had verbally asked for a pay hike, totalling $200 each, it was reported by A. F. Hall, school superintendent.

Members of the Manistique board expressed agreement with teachers on the fairness of a raise over contract salaries, and said that a bonus would be granted Manistique city teachers if funds were available.

The superintendent advised board members that income from primary and sales tax diversion money was exceeding expectations by a considerable amount, and stated his belief that funds would be available for a substantial bonus. "We will know definitely in January how much extra money we will have and how large the bonus can be," he said.

The board directed that a letter incorporating this information be sent to the county MEA and to the Manistique Teacher's club.

Various School Board Committees Are Named

Reappointment or various committees of the Manistique board of education was announced at the regular board meeting Tuesday night by Dr. George A. Shaw, president.

Following are the committees:

Purchasing: Robert Berger, chairman; Earl LeBrasseur, Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert.

Teachers: Keith Bundy, chairman; Mrs. Elwood Taylor, Earl LeBrasseur.

Building and grounds: J. Mauritz Carlson, chairman; Keith Bundy and Robert Berger.

Library: Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, chairman; Mrs. Elwood Taylor, Auditing: Mrs. Elwood Taylor, chairman; J. Mauritz Carlson, Keith Bundy.

Authorization was granted to Principal Carl Olson to attend a principals meeting in late November in Grand Rapids. Board members also studied an analysis of achievement tests recently given in the city grade schools.

Mrs. Elwood Taylor also reported on a meeting Monday evening of the school's library committee and recommended that the schools assist the library committee of the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital auxiliary in providing books for hospital patients. She said the committee had recommended that a gift book program be undertaken and that the city school library supplement this with a book lending service.

The board also voted to offer the services of the Central school hot lunch program to students at Lakeside and Lincoln schools. Hot lunches, however, would only be served at Central where adequate facilities for preparation are provided.

DEMONSTRATION

"Something new in meters, gentlemen—when someone parks without inserting a coin, the jack-in-the-box pops out and gives him the razzberry!"

Shomin Named On All U. P. Team; Braves, Trojan, Emeralds Listed

Dick Shomin, husky Escanaba end, was named on the All Upper Peninsula high school football team chosen by the U. P. sports-writers association and released today.

Four other Eskymos, two Gladstone players, one St. Joseph player and two Manistiquie boys were given honorable mention.

The Eskymos who won honorable mention were Dick Johnson, center; Bob St. Martin, who was placed at a guard post; Jim Nyquist, tackle, and Casper Bartley, fullback.

Pete Kutches Honored

The Sportswriters paid tribute to "Pistol Pete" Kutches of St. Joe by giving him honorable mention.

Gladstone placed Capt. Bill Sundling at guard and Bob Cole at tackle, although Cole played fullback late in the season.

Manistiquie's honorable mention entries were Iggy Babladelis, a tackle, and Don Quick, an end.

Besides Shomin on the first team are John Gipp of Calumet, third cousin of Notre Dame's immortal George Gipp, at the other end; Dennis Mellon of Munising and Walter Moraska of Norway, tackles; Dave Serbinski of Stambaugh and Kenneth Kilponen of Wakefield, guards, and Brock Strom of Ironwood, formerly of Munising, at center.

The "dream backfield" comprises Player of the year Mickey McMahon of Iron River, Bob Gingrass of Iron Mountain, Carl Nystrom of Marquette and Joe Villeneuve of Newberry.

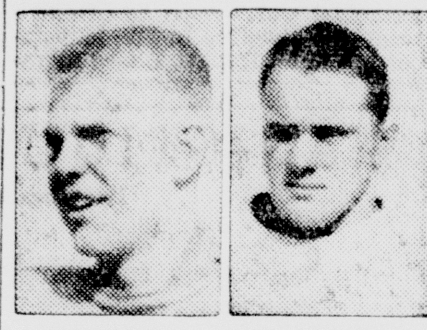

None From Menominee

Newberry and Iron River, unbeaten in U. P. competition, placed only one player each on the first team while Menominee, voted U. P. champions by the sports-writers two weeks ago, failed to land a single player on the first eleven. The best they could do was get John Arnost on the second team.

In making their selections, sportswriters were guided by tabulation of votes received in response to 185 questionnaires sent to all coaches, officials and team captains in the U. P. as well as sportswriters.

SHOMIN KUTCHES

NYQUIST ST. MARTIN

JOHNSON BARTLEY

Except for the backs, Shomin

polled the highest number of points. He was named on the first team on 20 ballots and on the second team on three ballots, for a total of 23 points. Gipp was a close second with 210 points. McMahon of Iron River polled the highest number of votes. He got 34 firsts and four seconds for 360 total. He was followed by Gingrass of Iron Mountain with 30 firsts and six seconds for 330 points.

The one which will play at Palo Alto is typical of Blaik's game, as plotted by Blaik's son, Bob, from the T-formation, is hard to hold for any length of time.

Al Pollard, the 190-pound sophomore fullback from Los Angeles, is the most dangerous of Blaik's carriers. He is a tremendous runner once he finds a slight opening. But there are others, such as Jack Martin, Vic Pollock, Frank Fischl, Gil Stephenson and Gene Filipski, another yearling, who can go all the way.

The principal other hallmark of the Army team is its defense. The Cadets tackle extremely hard. More often than not two and even three men will hit a runner, and he bounces. It will not be surprising if they draw an occasional boo from Saturday's partisan crowd. But that is the way they are taught to hit.

Communication

To the Sports Editor: After reading "Spilling The Dope" in Tuesday's paper, I couldn't keep from dropping you a line to let you know how the people feel about Bud Wilkinson in Oklahoma.

Having spent forty years in Oklahoma and seeing the Sooners play many football games, I feel as tho' I can speak for the majority of the Okies. About three years ago this same question came up about Wilkinson going to Minnesota. At that time he was just getting started with a winning team which wound up in the Orange or Sugar bowl, I don't remember which. Anyway, the team he is fielding today was quite the conversation last year. And from what I hear from down there now he has still a better team coming up next season.

As you know, bowl teams get the crowds and also the money. After last season was over they immediately started work on their stadium, closing in one end. I understand soon after this season is over they will finish the other end which should seat in the neighborhood of eighty thousand fans. Believe me, the people in Oklahoma are giving Bud Wilkinson and his staff credit for doing all of this. But if I were a gambling man I would say, regardless of what Minnesota had to offer, Bud Wilkinson would never leave OU with a future like he has there to coach a cellar Big Ten team, even tho' it is his Alma Mater. I agree with Fritz Crisler 100 per cent when he said, "A coach wants to win as badly as any die-hard partisan." And going to Minnesota won't make a winner out of any coach, soon anyway.

What I'd like to sit through is four full quarters of Oklahoma vs. Michigan state. That is what I would call an interesting afternoon. How about it?

As ever, an OU fan, Clovis Colvin

UTILIZE TALENTS

DETROIT—Because Ollie Cline is the halfback type of fullback, the Detroit Lions utilize his talents at the two backfield positions.

Drake Boy Leads Pass Catchers

NEW YORK—(P)—Tom Bienemann of Drake leads the pass catchers on major college football teams, with 45 for 615 yards.

With his season completed, that number of receptions could prove insufficient to stave off such contenders as Gordon Cooper of Denver and Northwestern's Don Stoniesifer.

Cooper has caught 40 for 511, according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

Stoniesifer, in seven games, has bagged 38 for 490, and has the advantage of two remaining games, compared to none for Bienemann and one for Cooper.

Happy 'Herm' Has Reasons To Be Happy

NEW HAVEN—(P)—Happy Herman Hickman has reason to be downright jovial today.

He possessed a new 10-year contract as football coach at Yale—and the odds are about 10 to 1 it will go into the player pension fund.

The deal was announced by Robert A. Hall, chairman of the university board of athletic control, practically on the eve of the Bulldog's 74th gridiron meeting with Princeton.

"We are very happy," Hall said. "We have great confidence in Herman, not only as a coach, but as a man of behave he is the best qualified coach in the whole nation to handle Yale football."

The Tennessee brad, who has yet to produce a football team to beat Princeton, beamed as he said: "Everybody at Yale has been wonderful—the players, student body, alumni and faculty. Being coach at Yale is an honor I cherish greatly. I am exceptionally grateful for the trust placed in me."

Hickman's teams lost each of the 1948 and 1949 encounters with Princeton by a touchdown—the 1948 score being Princeton 20, Yale 14; the 1949 score being Princeton 21, Yale 13.

This year the Elis have beaten Connecticut, Brown, Fordham, Columbia and Holy Cross, bowing by a 7-0 score to both Cornell and Dartmouth.

Herman's answer to the big question about Saturday's game at Princeton and the Harvard game here next weekend?

"We'll do our best."

Passes May Settle Illini-Buck Battle

CHICAGO—(P)—When you figure it out, all Illinois needs Saturday to beat Ohio State is better passing than it has been getting.

Otherwise, the two teams shape up as equals—in individual performance, and collectively.

So say statistics released today by Big Ten headquarters.

Individually, it figures out this way: Each team has two half-backs and a fullback who rank among the top 10 in the conference.

Illinois' fullback, Dick Raklovits, appears a good bet to win the conference rushing championship this year. In four conference games he has gained 341 yards for an average of 5.6 yards per carry. That's only 86 yards behind the leading Bill Reichardt of Iowa, who already has finished his 1950 conference schedule.

Illini Halfbacks John Karras and Don Stevens are also right up there and running. Stevens has 209 yards and a 4.9 yard average. Karras, despite missing the last two conference games with an ankle injury, has 216 yards and a 6.1 average.

Against this trio, the Buckeyes have fullback Chuck Gandee, 304 yards, 4.1 average; Vic Janowicz, 212 yards, 3.3 average, and Walt Klevay, 305 yards, 8.0 average.

Illinois does not rate with the Bucks in scoring potential, the Ohioans having averaged 41.6 points per conference game to the Illini's 13.5. However, Illinois is far ahead of the Bucks defensively. They've allowed an average 3.5 points a game to Ohio State's 9.3.

Roughly, this means Ohio State has an approximate 3-1 edge in scoring and Illinois has just about the same superiority defensively.

GUSSIE WINS ONE
FLINT—(P)—Gertrude (Gussie) Moran, professional tennis trapper whose figure has been more admired than her forehead, won an exhibition match here last night. She laced her touring partner, Pauline Betz Addie, 7-5, for her third victory in 15 professional engagements.

A single silkworm may spin 400 to 1,000 yards of filament.

KEEPS TEAMMATES IN STITCHES—Jack Trebilcock relaxes with embroidery before games. Engrossed with a Lazy Daisy stitch, the six-foot four-inch, 205-pound star right tackle of St. Louis' DeAndreis High says it calms his nerves.

Million Buck TV Fund Split Is Studied

CINCINNATI—(P)—Baseball's top brass gets together today to decide who gets the million dollars. And to boost some deserving talent from the minors to the majors.

The million dollars really isn't a million, but is only a pop fly off that figure. It is the $975,000 derived from the radio and television rights at the 1950 World Series—and the odds are about 10 to 1 it will go into the player pension fund.

Attracting heaviest interest around the hotel lobbies, which are densely populated with big league managers, general managers, presidents, scouts and farm directors, is the annual draft.

A year ago the majors picked 21 minor leaguers at a cost of $122,500. This year 5,688 boys in the bushes are on the block, including 238 listed as "bonus" players.

Hypnotized Rangers Respond; Lose Again

NEW YORK—(P)—"Your legs are getting heavy. Your eyes are closing. You want to sleep. Sleep. Sleep."

Dr. David Tracy, the hypnotist, talked to the New York Rangers in their dressing room. It was a few hours before their game with the Boston Bruins and the hockey club was meeting the doc for the first time. They sat in a circle, with feet flat on the floor and hands folded.

For a hockey team that almost won the Stanley cup last year they were pretty terrible. They won only one of 14 previous games and scored but 19 goals. The customers were staying away and the wolves were howling. If Dr. Tracy could help the St. Louis Browns he couldn't miss with the Rangers.

"I want you to stop worrying," said Dr. Tracy. "When you worry too much you block off the thinking process. When you are afraid you won't make a play, you tighten up. When you get behind a couple of goals you start to worry more. Forget about the score.

"Let the other team do the fighting. It's more important to stay out of the penalty box than to prove to the fans that you can fight back. Stay out of the penalty box."

Tony Leswick, usually a capable wing on the first line, was vitally concerned. Tony had spent 39 minutes in the penalty box, tops in the league this season. "Maybe you got something," said Leswick. "I'll try it out tonight. I promise, no penalties." (Ed note: Leswick kept his promise.)

P.S.—The Rangers lost again, Boston scoring two goals in the last period to win, 4-3. The small-nation hockey league crowd in New York in 10 years—only 6,856—saw Dr. Aracy's effort fizzle. The winning last period Boston goals were rapped home by Ross Lowe and Lorne Ferguson.

Wolves Polish Up Running Game

ANN ARBOR—(P)—Michigan's new found running attack may pull the Wolverines out of a statistical hole a Michigan team hasn't been in for a dozen years.

With two games remaining, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's running game has made less than the total rushing yardage of its opponents.

Not since Harry Kipke's 1937 team won four and lost four has a Michigan team been outgained on the ground by its opponents. Currently, Michigan has picked up 947 yards rushing. Seven Michigan foes have totaled 1,059 yards on the ground.

With the addition of the new-found sophomore wingback, Wes Bradford, the Wolverine running game is expected to continue to roll as it did against Indiana.

With Bradford punching from right half, Chuck Ortmann starting to run and pass with his old form at left half and the always-dependable Don Dufek working at fullback, the Wolverines may make up the 112-yard deficit in its final games with Northwestern and rugged Ohio State.

If they make the grade, by any margin at all, that margin is all-most certain to be the smallest in 13 years. For the past 12 years Michigan teams have outgained the opposition by an average of more than 800 yards per season.

The smallest edge in that period was made by Fritz Crisler's 1945 squad which turned in 1,322 yards to the opposition's 1,652 for a meager 180-yard bulge.

In a slight rain he put his variety on offense with passer Ortmann contributing the key plays. Ortmann, throwing on about a third of the plays, tossed long and short with effectiveness. He injected enough of his own running to score one touchdown on a jaunt of about 40 yards and keep the freshmen defense weary for the balance of the session.

Regular wingback Leo Koceski showed improved running and convinced onlookers he is nearing complete recovery from his four-week-old knee injury. Koceski ran the Wolverine reverse play with something of his former sharpness.

Tickets for the annual Recognition football banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Thursday night, Nov. 30 at the Bethany Lutheran church, now are available.

Tuesday is the deadline for final report on tickets.

They are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, Gust Asps, Groos and West End drug stores.

Members of the Escanaba and St. Joseph football teams will be guests at the banquet at which Lloyd Larson, Big Ten official and Milwaukee sports editor, will speak.

Spartans 'Honed' Up For Pitt

EAST LANSING—(P)—Pittsburgh, the last football opponent of the year for Michigan State's Spartans, appears a likely candidate for the "Indiana treatment."

The Panthers, like the Hoosiers, claim a sturdy defensive line, a high powered passer and some good ends, but not much else. Their ground attack, crippled by loss of men to the armed services, is reported weak.

If the similarity holds all down the line, the Spartans might have a pretty good time of it. They beat the Hoosiers, 35-0, with some help from a snowy, muddy field and eight Indiana fumbles.

The way they did it was rush the Indiana passer-quarterback Lou D'Achille, and smother his receivers, while their own line sneaked the running plays time and again.

MSC Coach Biggie Munn, of course, is working out some variations on that script. He apparently expects Pittsburgh, if stymied on the ground, to punt more. So he's worked his boys on punt blocking and punt returns.

The pass defenses, as usual, have claimed their share of attention, with pass interceptions mentioned prominently as a way of breaking up a ball game. The Spartan running attack, meanwhile, honed itself up with signal drills.

The ace Pittsburgh passer right now is Quarterback Bob Bestwick. Against Notre Dame last week, he completed even the formidable Booy Williams, with 19 completions on 25 heaves, good for 252 yards.

A lot of that passing was done to two veteran ends, Cris Warriner and Nick De Rosa, both of whom can run after they've grabbed a heave. Left Half Bill Sickho, a good runner, and Right Half Bill

Reynolds also receive.

In the line, standout tackle Nick Bolkovac is back, and is getting able assistance from guards Merle De Luca and Rudy Andabaker. On defense, Bolkovac goes to end, De Luca to tackle, and Warriner to fullback.

Arizona State Tops In Yardage Gained

NEW YORK — (AP) — Arizona State of Tempe still rates No. 1 among the major colleges in yard gaining but Nebraska, moving up fast may take over the lead before long.

In three weeks, the Cornhuskers, paced by flashy Bobby Reynolds, have piled up 1,668 yards to zoom from 32nd to fourth place.

According to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau, Tempe, with Whizzer White showing the way, is first in total offense with an average of 476.8 yards per game.

The Southwesterners also top the majors in rushing offense with an average of 357.5 per game.

Princeton's Tigers are second in total offense (468) and third in rushing (345.6). The Tigers are first in scoring with an average of 41.3 markers per game. Ohio State is second with 39.4.

Color TV Showing Presented By CBS

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System took the case for its color television to the public with the opening of five-day demonstrations in a Fifth Avenue showroom.

The demonstrations are designed to stimulate quick public acceptance of CBS color. The system has been approved by the Federal Communications Commission but opposed by a majority of manufacturers.

With ten color receivers in the showroom, CBS will accommodate 300 persons at a showing or 1,500 a day. Tickets to the showings are given out free.

In a preview showing CBS color pictures showed up in soft, true tones and were much prettier to look at than black and white pictures.

However, opposition to CBS color for the most part has been based not on the fidelity of its reproduction — which even most of its opponents admit is good — but on the contention that better systems, and methods that would cause less dislocation to the industry, are available or soon will be.

The start of the CBS demonstration here coincided with the opening of hearings in federal court in Chicago on a petition by the Radio Corp. of America for an injunction halting the start of commercial color broadcasting under the CBS method.

The custom of throwing shoes at a newly-married couple is very old and believed to be a relic of the ancient practice of giving a shoe to another to symbolize transfer of possession.

HINT TO MOTORISTS

When jacking up a car, the jack should be placed as near the end of the axle as possible. The closer it is to the center of the car, the more weight it must bear.

RED RUNABOUT—Somewhere in Korea, two G.I.'s with the 24th Infantry Division take a spin in a captured, Russian-built light armored car. The men are: Cpl. Harvey L. Stoner of Plainville, Kans. (driving), and Cpl. Wilmer Dugelman of Bridgeport, Conn. Evidently the Yanks couldn't agree on a name for the tin lizzie, as it bears various tags, "Big 6," "Gimlet," "Jeanie" and "De pres B."

Munising News

Floyd E. Marsh Of Munising Dies

MUNISING (Special)—Floyd E. Marsh, 75, veteran of over 50 years service as a telegrapher and station agent for the Duluth South Shore railroad, died at 8 a. m., Wednesday in University hospital in Ann Arbor.

A former member of the Alger county board of supervisors and of the Munising township board of education, Marsh had been a patient at Ann Arbor several times in the past year.

Born April 24, 1875 in Webberville, Mich., Marsh moved to Upper Michigan over 50 years ago. For several years he worked at Strong's, Mich., for the D. S. S. & A. and for 50 years was stationed at Wetmore. He moved to Munising about 15 years ago and retired 10 years ago.

Marsh was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Munising, the Ahmed Temple Shrine, the Francis M. Moore consistory and the railroad telegraphers association.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Lillian Brandt of Munising, Mrs. Cluster Hanson of Pontiac and Mrs. Mildred Fletcher of Garden City; two sons, Thorvald and Austin Marsh of Ypsilanti, and several grandchildren.

The body was expected to arrive today in Munising and funeral services probably will be held Saturday afternoon.

Munising Post Auxiliary Opens Drive For Members

MUNISING—A drive to reach its 1951 membership quota was started this week by the Munising unit of the American Legion auxiliary. Mrs. Helen Genry, and Mrs. Alice Mazzali, of the unit's membership committee, head the camaign which will continue through Nov. 30.

RHEUMATISM SHOCKS

In ancient times, persons suffering from rheumatism were made to stand barefooted on the body of a torpedo ray, a fish capable of producing electrical shocks.

It's A New Twist On An Old Story

PEORIA, Ill. — (AP) — Man can be a dog's best friend, too. The hound in this case stuck his head into a foot-long drain tile and couldn't get it out. D. G. Wine-land, a painter, heard a whimpering and took the dog and its ceramic collar to a veterinarian. A little liquid soap, a gentle pull and the dog was free.

Eskimo Children Get Famous Names

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — (AP) — Such names as George Washington Nagushnak and Woodrow Wilson Nashoalook have become sprinkled through the Eskimo colonies of northern Alaska.

Census takers noted a trend toward naming Eskimo children after historic American leaders or movie stars. Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Oliver reported a tendency among the Eskimos also to use two names for their children instead of the traditional single Eskimo name.

Oliver and his wife took the census over a vast area of northern and western Alaska. Mrs. Oliver, who traveled by dog team and airplane on her census job, found a five-year-old boy named "Mr. Roosevelt."

"We used to listen to President Roosevelt over the radio," the boy's Eskimo father explained.

Diesel oil engines do not use spark plugs. Heat generated by the high compression ignites the fuel.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!
